EXPLOSIONS RIP FREIGHTER; AT LEAST 7 KILLED. Amid chemically-fed fumes, rescue workers hoist out one of the victims killed when three explosions ripped the 8,900-ton Norwegian freighter Black Falcon in Boston harbor, not far from the scene of the aircraft carrier Leyte disaster of three weeks ago. In the Black Falcon explosions, at least seven are known dead, 12 injured and ten are believed missing. Note the news photographers and newsreel cameramen taking pictures from the upper deck. Also note the "No Smoking" sign at left, near the ladder.

Officer Dies, Another Shot In Gun Battle

Man At Beaver Falls Fires On 2 Serving Mental Test Papers

A suspected mental patient fatally shot one Pennsylvania State Police officer and wounded another—before being killed himself—in a gun battle near Beaver Falls at 8 p. m. Monday.

Pvt. Floyd D. Clouse was killed almost instantly and Cpl. Harold G. Rice wounded when they attempted to serve a lunacy warrant on Edwin Stanyard, 40, of White Township, a suberb of Beaver Falls.

The warrant was for a mental examination and was sworn out by Stanyard's family.

Police officials said that Stanyard locked himself in a second-floor room of the house where he roomed at 2212 13th Ave. He opened fire when the officers approached his room, killing Clouse instantly on the first shot. Rice grappled with Stanyard and several shots were fired, three hitting Stanyard in the mouth and killing him. Rice was shot through the cheek in the fracas, police said.

The officers were accompaned by Dr. Edward Douds, a Beaver Falls physician who frequently assists the police on investiations. He was uninjured in the shooting.

Clouse, a native of Hollidaysburg, is survived by his widow and two small children. Cpl. Rice is reported in fair condition at the Providence Hospital in Beaver Falls.

Capt. William R. Hanna and Lt. Ernest Moore of Troop D, Butler, were immediately sent to Beaver Falls to investigate.

Gen. Marshall Reported In 'Good' Condition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, 72-year-old statesman and soldier, was reported in good condition today at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, where he is under treatment for an inflamed right lung.

He was flown to the hospital Sunday from his winter home at Pinehurst, N. C., after an influenza attack. His condition was described yesterday as improved and good and, last night, as unchanged.

Queen Elizabeth Pledges Britain's Wealth For Peace

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II opened the fall session of Parliament today with a pledge that the resources and wealth of the vast British Commonwealth of nations would be thrown into the battle for world peace.

Among the top objectives of her government, she declared in her traditional speech from the throne at the start of the third session of the present Parliament, would be an "early meeting between the Soviet Union and the three Western powers."

The young queen outlined the policy of Prime Minister Churchill's government.

She read the address in the House of Lords before all members of both houses of Parliament.

The queen declared "my government will continue to regard the relaxation of international tension and the preservation of peace as prime objectives of their policy."

She outlined these objectives of the Churchill government:

1. An early Big Four meeting. The speech did not specify, however, whether this should be on the foreign ministers' level—to which the Soviet Union already has been invited—or among the heads of states, as envisioned by Churchill.

2. Strengthening of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

3. Continued efforts for the "conclusion of an Austrian state (independence) treaty" and for a "settlement of the problem of German unity, in conjunction with the governments of France and the United States and in consultation with the German federal government."

4. ". . . Hope for a renewal of those friendly relations which have been traditional between this country and Persia (Iran) and for an early resumption of normal diplomatic relations between the two countries."

Benson Sees Drop In Farm Prices In '54

Probably Not Income Though, He Predicts In Talk To Governors

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson says farm prices—but probably not Farm income—may still be falling next year when the Republicans will be struggling to hold their control of Congress.

The beleaguered cabinet member predicted last night that farm prices and farm costs will both be dropping. He said he believes that overall "the retreat of farm prices and farm incomes has . . . been stopped." Farm prices have generally been falling for over a year and a half.

Benson spoke to the state dinner of the Southern Governors Conference. He got an ovation when introduced, and when he ended his talk, but during it his hearers sat on their hands.

"Next year farm prices may decline slightly but farm costs also are expected to dip downward," Benson said. "To sum it up—the supply and demand situation and also the price and income situations offer encouragement."

Benson also told the Dixie governors the Eisenhower Administration will ask the states to shoulder a greater load in dealing with farm problems. Several of the governors wondered aloud where the money would come from.

From Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, the lone Republican in this conference of Dixie executives, came words of praise for Benson. "We are ready to follow his lead," McKeldin told newsmen.

But Democratic governors generally were less charitable toward Benson's obvious bid for Southern support for what he termed the Eisenhower Administration's plan to "take that which works fairly well" in the present farm program "and strengthen it."

Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia said he heard "nothing new" in the 35-minute talk during which Benson never was interrupted by applause.

"If he has a farm program, he hasn't told us what it is," Battle commented.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, who supported President Eisenhower in last year's campaign, said he wouldn't be surprised if farm and a lot of other prices decline next

Weather Balmy For Election Day

This fine Election Day weather will continue long after the losing candidates make their trip up "Salt River."

Temperatures were soaring near the 70-mark today and a bright sun was beaming down as East Liverpool voters treked to the polls.

The weatherman said temperatures will average well above the season normal Wednesday through Sunday although it will be briefly cooler tomorrow and again Saturday. Mostly fair weather also is indicated although showers are likely Friday night or Saturday.

Dam 8 said the mercury jumped about 10 degrees to 63 at 10 a. m. and was rising. Monday's high was a balmy 69.

According to election lore, Demcorats benefit from a rainy voting day and Republicans are glad when the sun shines.

And Salt River—from the tears of the losers—always was a post-election quip indulged in by the winners many years ago.

Boston Ship Blast Probe Launched

Fourth Harbor Fire In 17 Days Kills 7, Injures 18 Workers

BOSTON (AP)—The fourth Boston Harbor ship fire in 17 days swept the Norwegian freighter Black Falcon after a violent explosion yesterday, leaving a toll of seven dead and 18 injured.

The dead and injured were longshoremen working deep in an aft hold unloading chemicals at the Army Base, 200 yards from where the aircraft carrier Leyte was berthed when it was rocked by an explosion that killed 37 men Oct. 16.

The seven victims either were killed outright by the blast or burned to death by the roaring fire which shot flames 200 feet in the air.

The victims included a father and son—Anthony Bensaia, 53, and Alvin L. Bensaia, 24—who were working their first day as longshoremen.

At least five saved themselves by jumping overboard after their clothing caught fire.

The work gang in the hold consisted of 21 men but Robert J. Flaherty, 18, had left the ship only moments before to get coffee for his co-workers.

In addition to those killed and injured in the hold, five fire-fighters suffered burns that required hospital attention. At least a score other rescue workers were treated at the scene for burns and smoke inhalation.

Edward F. Montgomery, chief of the Boston Fire Department's arson squad, said after a preliminary survey that he believed a drum of sodium peroxide apparently was stowed "too near the boilers" and that the heat caused some of the chemical to leak out and mix with bauxite—aluminum ore—stored in the same hold.

He said when the mixture began to smolder, one of the men threw a pail of water onto it and caused "a violent chemical reaction."

Daniel J. Donovan, international vice president of the longshoremen's union to which the victims belonged, charged the drums of chemicals were stored near boilers "against regulations."

He pointed to some drums unloaded from the Black Falcon, and declared to newsmen: "Look what's printed on them."

The drums were marked: "Sodium peroxyde—stow away from boiler—made in Germany."

Labels on the drums also warned not to spill contents and not to subject contents to moisture.

The Coast Guard called together a court of inquiry to investigate the disaster beginning today.

None of the Black Falcon's crew of 40 was injured. The ship's master, K. Langballe, 44, of Shelbourne, Australia, was at the customs house obtaining clearance for the vessel to leave for Philadelphia.

Survivors said one of the victims, David McConnell, 51, gave his life in saving others.

Fellow worker Jack Crowley, 36, of Quincy, said he saw McConnell pull "four or five" men to safety, and added: "Then I saw him split his head open on the bulkhead. His clothing and hair caught fire."

Crowley said he saw McConnell stagger to the rail and plunge overboard. Rescuers pulled him out but he died enroute to a hospital.

In addition to the Black Falcon and Leyte explosions, a U. S. government-owned experimental fishing vessel was swept by a $100,000 fire while tied up in Boston Oct. 22, and a Navy radar ship, the U.S.S. William K. Wood, suffered $8,000 damages Oct. 26 in a fire caused by a boiler flareback.

An otherwise quiet Election Eve was marred by a one-man "smear" campaign on the Village Square at Lisbon.

Gallons of goo — consisting of glue, plastic cement, tar and tile setting compound — oozed onto the pavement Monday afternoon about 5:30 after a T-K Roofing Co. truck of Chester lost part of its cargo.

Arthur Stickle of Washington, Pa., driver, headed from Salem, made a left turn to Route 30 at the square, when the load of 5-gallon cans shifted and broke a supporting gate. About 75 black cans tumbled into the gutter.

Many of the buckets broke open, spread a gummy layer over the blacktop street. Village Street Department employes worked for about an hour cleaning up the mess.

Forenoon Balloting Shows Heavy Trend In Surprise Turnout

NEW YORKERS WELCOME GREECE'S ROYAL COUPLE. An estimated 750,000 New Yorkers turn out to give a rousing welcome to King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece. While the queen stands beside him, King Paul gives a soldierly salute to the flag as he inspects the Marine corps guard of honor. Mayor Vincent Impellitteri (extreme right in back seat) later told the queen she was the "prettiest and perkiest queen ever to visit" the city.

Party Leaders Look For Clues In Elections

Big Ones Scheduled In New York, New Jersey, Virginia

By The Associated Press

It's election day and the big ones—a mayor in New York and governors in New Jersey and Virginia—had Republicans and Democrats battling with one eye on election day a year hence.

Ever since a Democrat upset a Republican in Wisconsin's special congressional election last month, leaders of both parties have been looking to this day for clues. The way things go today, they theorize, might show how things will go in the 1954 congressional election.

As Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) expressed one GOP viewpoint, election of a Democratic governor in New Jersey—it would be the first time in 10 years—might set off a chain reaction resulting in a Democratic Congress.

That, Dirksen said, would "tie the hands" of President Eisenhower during the last two years of the first Republican national administration in two decades.

Eisenhower is backing the Republican candidates in all three crucial races—Paul L. Troast for New Jersey governor, Theodore R. Dalton for Virginia governor and Harold Riegelman for New York mayor.

The president has said that, while he doesn't want to use his office in partisan politics, he of course wants to see Republicans elected.

Troast, 58, and a wealthy contractor, is seeking the chair of Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll. He appeared to be a slight favorite to win over Democrat Robert B. Meyner, 44, a lawyer and former state senator.

In Virginia, Dalton's whirlwind attempt to become his state's first Republican governor whistled head-on into the powerful Democratic organization headed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd.

Byrd didn't take the stump for his man, former Rep. Thomas B. Stanley, 63, until two weeks ago. Before then Stanley had been campaigning in a quiet, easy-going manner while Dalton hit all 10 of the state's districts, dropped in at the White House for a chat and logged about 25,000 travel miles.

Most observers conceded Dalton, 52, was running well. But few predicted he would run well enough to win.

A heavy turnout—close to 400,000 compared with the 269,000 record of 1929—was expected at the polls. The key factor seemed to be how the anti-Byrd Democrats would vote.

By contrast, New York's mayoral campaign — hog and heavy since the starting whistle—was expected to bring out only a relative trickle. Registration is 2,396,099

U.N. To Plan Assembly Hearing On Atrocities

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. delegates were given time today to prepare for a full General Assembly airing of American charges of Communist atrocities in Korea.

The United States yesterday pushed through the 14-nation steering committee its demand that the charges, backed by U. S. Army photographs and documents as evidence the Reds in Korea tortured and murdered tens of thousands of victims, be placed before the world in an Assembly plenary session.

The 12-2 vote in favor of placing the issue on the agenda came after heated opposition by the Soviet bloc members—Russia and Poland. The Soviet bloc is expected to make a last ditch try to keep the 60-nation Assembly from taking up the issue; but there appeared little chance they could line up enough support to kill it.

U. N. officials said the Assembly would not take up the atrocity item at today's plenary, but probably would consider it early next week. Today's session was scheduled to deal with the question of French administration of her North African protectorates, Tunisia and Morocco.

U. N. informants said the atrocity question was held off today's plenary schedule to give various delegations time to digest the steering committee report before entering into a discussion.

Russia's Andrei Vishinsky told the steering committee the American charges were "half-mad nightmares" and urged that the item be thrown out altogether. He charged the Americans raised the issue merely to justify more arms expenditures.

To everyone's surprise, however, he failed to demand that the U. N. invite representatives of the Communist Chinese and North Koreans to come here for debate on the charges.

2¼ Million Ohioans Cast Ballots Today

To Choose Several Mayors, Decide On Multitude Of Issues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some 2¼ million Ohioans are expected to jam the state's polling booths today to express their opinions on a multitude of issues ranging from segregation to education.

A warm weather forecast backs Secretary of State Ted Brown's prediction that this off-year election will be one of Ohio's busiest. Polls opened at 6:30 a. m. and will close at 6:30 p. m.

Voting citizens will have plenty to think about. On the ballot today are mayoralty contests, bond issues, levies and nine state constitutional amendments.

It's the amendments that lend variety to the voters' election menu.

Votes will decide, among other things:

1. Whether a state board of education or the governor should name the director of education.

2. Whether Ohioans should pay as they go or pledge future funds to improve highways.

3. Whether non-Caucasians also should be permitted in the state militia.

On the city and community level, balloting will be on local bond issues, tax levies—most of them on school matters—local prohibition, and mayoral contests.

In Columbus, Cleveland, Massillon, Salem, Lancaster, Marietta, Canton and Wilmington especially spirited contests will be decided.

State Sen. Anthony J. Celebrezze, with the backing of Gov. Frank J. Lausche defeated a candidate of the local Democratic organization in the Cleveland mayoral primary. He is opposed by a former juvenile judge, Republican William J. McDermott.

A city income tax hangs in the balance in Canton where Republican Mayor Carl F. Wise favors a one-half of one per cent levy. He is opposed by former Democratic Mayor Thomas H. Nichols who has not taken a stand on the tax issue.

Incumbent mayors in Athens, Nelsonville and Mount Vernon are unopposed.

'No Clues' Reported In Minerva Shooting

MINERVA, Ohio (AP)—Not a single good clue and no plausible motive have turned up in the fatal shooting of Orvie Haldeman, 74, at his farm house Saturday night, Sheriff Richard Beamer of Carrol County said today.

"He was just a plain old good-hearted farmer," Prosecutor Glenn Fortune said.

The person who fired six shots into his head, two from close up, apparently did not disturb anything in the house or steal anything, Beamer said.

1,803 Votes Cast Among 30 Precincts

City May Equal Or Top Record Set In '43 Municipal Election

A surprisingly heavy turnout estimated at 1,803 was recorded in East Liverpool's 30 precincts in forenoon voting today, indicating the city may equal or top a 10-year record for municipal elections.

An estimated 1,849 had voted at the same time in the last comparable election in November 1951, when the city cast 7,771 ballots, the highest for such an election since 1943.

A sampling of 10 precincts showed 601 votes cast at 11 a. m., four and a half hours after the polls opened, compared with 613 at the same time in 1951.

Three precincts topped the forenoon vote they cast two years ago. Precinct 2-B, which votes at Evans Pontiac Garage, showed 108 today compared with 98 in 1951.

And 4-H, the Fisher Park precinct, recorded 46 today against 32 at the same time two years ago. Voters in 3-C, at Central Fire Station, showed 70 today against 57 in 1951.

Two years ago, it was a $2,725,000 school building bond issue that swelled the turnout and today the driving force apparently was the selection of three Board of Education members who will help determine where two of the three new buildings will be located.

East Liverpool also will fill offices from mayor through ward councilmen, pass on a school operating levy and name a municipal judge.

About 25,000 votes are expected in Columbiana County, whose voters will name officials for 13 cities and villages, 19 townships and 20 school districts in addition to acting on a host of bond issues and tax levies.

Polling places opened at 6:30 a. m. and will close at 6:30 p. m.

In the 1951 election, the county cast 23,139 votes.

Here are the forenoon votes in 10 East Liverpool precincts, compared with the turnout at the same time two years ago; 1-C, 40 today, 45 in 1951; 1-B, 54 and 62; 1-D, 64 and 68; 2-A, 65 and 73; 2-B, 108 and 98; 2-E, 74 and 86; 3-C, 70 and 57; 4-C, 41 and 47; 4-E, 39 and 45, and 4-H, 46 and 32.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, said he expects a slow count of returns tonight, particularly because there are so many special questions and issues to be tabulated.

Instructions from the Secretary of State's office at Columbus call for the first count on the nine-question ballot carrying proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Then the board will turn to the municipal ballot, Board of Education and judicial races and the 0.4-mill school levy.

The board may make its accustomed "flash" count of the East Liverpool mayoralty race by telephone, in wnich the result generally is known within an hour after the polls close.

Turnout Varies In Wellsville Voting

Forenoon voting in Wellsville today ranged from "very slow" in 4-E, where only 18 had voted, to "extremely heavy" in 1-B with 82 ballots cast.

A survey of 9 of the 11 precincts indicated almost 600 had voted, compared with 500 in 1951.

The voting was termed "heavy" in both precincts of the Second

TV Replaces Torch Parade In Election

Interest Lacking As New York City Votes For Mayor Today

NEW YORK (AP)—A new mayor of New York was being elected today, after a bitter and costly campaign that failed to excite the voters.

Gone forever apparently were the torch light parades, the thunder of massed thousands in great arenas, the intimate "I promise you" of the street corner rally.

In their place was the television candidate for mayor, theatrically made up and carefully pronouncing campaign promises and charges from the remote and sterile depths of the small silver screen.

The polls are open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. (EST). A quick machine count should be over before midnight.

Fair and mild weather was forecast for today.

The campaign wound up last night as the three major candidates made their final bids for the 4-year, $40,000-a-year top spot in City Hall—the nation's second biggest political job. Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri was beaten in the Democratic primary six weeks ago.

His successor, the city's third mayor in less than four years, will be one of these three:

Democratic—Robert F. Wagner Jr., 44, a New Dealer and son of the late Senate author of the original New Deal's Labor Relations Act of 1935. Wagner, heavily favored to win, is the $25,000-a-year president of the Borough of Manhattan.

Republican—Harold Riegelman, 61, a veteran civic worker and student of municipal housing and economics, and acting postmaster for three months early this year.

Liberal—Rudolph Halley, 40, who made a national name for himself as examiner of underworld bigshots for the old Kefauver Senate Crime Committee. The longshot in the present race, he won the $25,000-a-year city council presidency in 1951 as a Liberal Party candidate. He is a registered Democrat.

Registration this year is 2,396,099 and the vote may drop below two million for the first time since 1945—a tipoff to public apathy in the face of one of the bitterest and costliest campaigns in years. Estimates of the cost run as high as a million dollars per candidate.

Three years ago the Liberals polled only 223,993 votes in support of a Democratic candidate out of a total vote of 2,626,478.

Wagner is a heavy betting favorite. The New York Daily News straw poll—never wrong in past mayoral elections—gives him a 2-1 edge over Riegelman, with Halley a poor third.

Hancock County Farm Program Ready

Mrs. Norma Murray, manager of the Hancock County office of the Production and Marketing Administration, said the federal agency's 1954 program will begin today.

Assistance is available through application at the New Cumberland office to farmers needing lime or other materials for conservation work.

Farmers needing trees or other plants should contact Glen Montgomery, soil conservationist. Offices of Montgomery and Mrs. Murray are in back of the courthouse.

A committee meeting of county officials of the Production and Marketing Administration will be held later this month. The officials are C. C. Herron, chairman, of near New Cumberland, and Donald Allison and Carl Allison, both of near Chester. They were elected by county farmers.

Congress To Have Final Say

Commission Seeks Right Answer To Tariff Issue

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—In less than a year President Eisenhower has set up a dozen or so committees, commissions, advisory groups, boards and panels to help his administration fix policies and programs.

Outstanding men have been appointed to study such national and international problems as agriculture and foreign trade and then suggest what to do for the best interest of the country.

That's the theory, but Eisenhower may be in as much of a dilemma after one of these groups finishes its task as before. That's because of a couple questions that were there before he called in these advisers:

1. Can any man who considered a problem for years and probably formed pretty positive opinions now look at it with an open mind just because the President asked him to?

2. And what is the "best interest of the United States?" Granting that all members of a commission are sincere, there can still be a wide difference among them on what's good for the country.

Such a difference appears in one of the most important advisory groups—the 17-man commission on foreign economic policy — long before it has finished its job.

Its main job is studying the Reciprocal Trade Act, which means telling Eisenhower and Congress whether tariffs on foreign goods coming here to compete with American products should be higher or lower. This 1934 act gives the President authority to lower tariffs brought here in exchange for lower tariffs on American goods exported to countries sending products here.

The chairman of this tariff study commission—Clarence B. Randall, chairman of the board of the Inland Steel Co.—has been quoted as telling his commission colleagues he was attempting to preserve an open mind and as urging them to do the same.

In a book, "Freedom's Faith," published Oct. 27, Randall said America's traditionally high tariff policy "must steadily yield to the imperative new necessity for broadened world trade."

The word "bias" was flung at him almost instantly by a committee representing a number of industries, trade associations and farm and labor groups which want higher tariffs because, they say, they're being hurt by imports made more cheaply.

This organization passed a resolution calling on Eisenhower to fire Randall from the trade commission. About the same time, another member of Randall's group, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa), gave his views.

Simpson said: "certainly we are not going to enact any proposal which will admit a flood of imports. On the other hand, in my opinion, we are going to give the protection to our own hard-pressed domestic industries."

Ten of the 17 men on Randall's commission are from Congress, five senators and five House members. Their views on tariffs were known before they were named to the commission. Some want higher tariffs, some lower ones.

Simpson, for instance, fought hard this year to put through a bill making it tougher for the President to lower tariffs. Another member of the commission, who supported him, is Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), chairman of the ways and means committee which handles tariff legislation.

There is some question whether Eisenhower himself can be said to have an open mind on tariffs. He has repeatedly advocated more world trade. Higher tariffs would cut down this country's part in such trade, not increase it.

Eisenhower will probably get two reports from the Randall commission, one urging tougher tariffs, the other wanting tariffs cut. Then he'll have to decide which one to recommend to Congress. In the end, no matter what he says, Congress will give the final answer.

year. He said Benson was "honest and honorable" but lacked the "old pro" approach.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, another 1952 Eisenhower supporter, called it a "thoughtful speech." Byrnes applauded Benson's decision to seek from Congress a "reasonable increase" in the 1954 cotton acreage allotment.

Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana, an Eisenhower supporter, said he thinks Benson has come as close to solving the farm problem as anyone can.

Kennon said he thinks the states should take on more agricultural responsibility, as Benson suggested. But he said along with that responsibility the states should be willing to put up local cash.

Said Gov. Herman E. Talmadge of Georgia, chairman of the conference:

"Mr. Benson is a fine, affable Christian gentleman, but I am disappointed that he didn't advocate price supports at 90 per cent of parity for basic crops."

Parity is an artificial price said by law to equalize farmers' returns from their produce in relation to the prices of things they buy.

Gov. William C. Marland of West Virginia, called the secretary's speech "just another example of the Benson philosophy."

He said Benson hadn't suggested any means of leaving tax sources to the states to meet any added financial responsibility for the farm program.

Govs. Frank G. Clement of Kentucky, Francis Cherry of Arkansas and Johnston Murray of Oklahoma said that if the federal government wants to unload some of its farm burdens, it will have to step out of the way of the states on some taxes.

'Hams' Not To Blame For Poor TV Reception

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. — "Ham" radio operators say that folks who "beef" about poor reception on UHF television sets and blame it on the amateurs ought to brush up on TV technicalities.

The American Radio Relay League, spokesman for the amateur operators, admits that "ham" broadcasts many times seep through the loudspeakers of TV sets that have been converted to UHF, but the fault lies in the set, not with the radio operators.

The radio league has asked the Federal Communications Commission to help enlighten the public on this point. The "hams," according to the league, are not straying from their own wave bands.

Dean Offers New Formula

Reds To Study Plan For Korean Parley

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. envoy Arthur Dean today suggested a new "all or nothing" formula for arranging a Korean peace Conference. The Reds first said the proposal contained nothing new, then promised to study it overnight.

Briefly, Dean proposed a discussion of all points offered by both sides with "the understanding that no agreement will be final until we have a meeting of minds on all."

Dean told the Reds that if they would discuss all issues on both agendas he would exchange views over who should be invited to the full-scale negotiations.

The U. N. Assembly authorized Dean only to fix a time and place for political conference. Several times since the preliminary talks opened Oct. 26 he has offered to listen to Red demands that a number of neutrals be seated—after a time and place are set.

The Communists insist that composition of the parley be decided first.

Dean opened the session by telling the Reds the world dislikes "this bickering" and proposed as a suitable date for the conference either Dec. 1 or four weeks after the preliminary talks end.

Then he suggested his new formula and added:

"I am quite willing to exchange views again on the composition which we thought had already been decided in an agreement (the Korean armistice) signed by both sides."

The Reds called a 30-minute recess to discuss the proposal. They later asked a 30-minute extension.

When the session resumed the communist delegates said that after "preliminary study" they had "not found any elements in your statement which could be conducive to progress of the meetings."

Nonetheless they added that they would look it over some more and reply Wednesday at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. Tuesday EST).

Dean told a news conference after the meeting:

"I still believe we can work this out and we are going to work this out".

The envoy said he still feels the Communists want the political conference.

and the vote may drop below two million for the first time since 1945.

Contesting for the $40,000-a-year post, along with Republican Riegelman, are Democrat Robert F. Wagner Jr., and Liberal Rudolph Halley.

Wagner, 44-year old son of the late senator who wrote the original New Deal's labor relations act of 1935, is the heavy betting favorite. The New York Daily News poll—never wrong before in mayoral elections—gave him a 2-1 edge over Riegelman, with Halley a poor third.

Halley, 40, is best known nationally for his work as examiner of underworld big shots for the televised Senate crime hearings a few years back.

Wagner won the Democratic primary Sept. 15 by almost 2-1 over the incumbent, Vincent R. Impellitteri.

Wagner's backers include former President Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee for president. In the 61-year-old Riegelman's corner, along with Eisenhower, is New York's Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Atom Spy's Attorney Denies Radar 'Leak'

NEW YORK (AP) — The attorney for atom spy David Greenglass has denied reports by the U. S. Senate investigations subcommittee that Greenglass supplied important new information on espionage in the radar field.

O. John Rogge, counsel for Greenglass, said yesterday his client had been cooperative when questioned by subcommittee staff members Thursday at the federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa.

However, Rogge said the FBI had previously covered every subject explored last Thursday by the investigators for the group headed by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R—Wis.)

The subcommittee has been looking into alleged radar espionage at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. The group's hearings continue behind closed doors today with McCarthy scheduled to take over active charge of the probe. He had been on a speaking tour.

Lisbon Balloting Described As Light

LISBON—Reports from eight village precincts this morning indicated a light vote, despite the appearance on the ballot for the first time in years of several Democratic candidates for Council and the Board of Public Affairs.

Only 216 voters had marked ballots by mid-morning. Of this number 184 were village voters and 32 were from Center Township.

Midland Expects Near Record Vote

Close to a record vote is expected in Midland, if forenoon totals are any indication. At 10 a. m. approximately 500 voters had cast their ballots in the five districts, while 550 had voted at that hour two years ago.

Both parties had fleets of cars lined up to transport voters to the polls.

Palestine Voting Heavier Than Usual

EAST PALESTINE—Voting this morning hit a generally heavier pace than usual for an "off-year" election with 425 ballots cast by 11 a. m. in the city's eight precincts.

In 1951, some 225 had cast their votes at that hour.

Toll Charges In Two Sites Would Be Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. today asked the state utilities commission to let it do away with toll charges on calls between subscribers in its Alliance and Sebring exchanges.

The company said it plans to establish "new and comprehensive service" in Sebring where it has 1,656 subscribers. The new service will be comparible to that Alliance subscribers now get, and the company asks permission to adjust its Sebring rates to put them in line with Alliance rates.

Brice Bowman of Akron, district commercial manager for Ohio Bell, said 1,368 Sebring subscribers approve the proposal.

Saline School Board Changes Admission Date

IRONDALE — The Saline Local Board of Education set an earlier school admission date for 1954 at a meeting Monday night.

Conforming with a Jefferson Count Board of Education ruling made last year, a child must be 6 by Nov. 1 before he can enter school. The previous limit had been 6 by Jan. 1.

One of the principal reasons for the earlier date is to keep children from entering school too young, with a consequent loss of schooling when they fail to keep up with older classmates.

When powdered sugar is used instead of granulated to sweeten whipped cream, the cream doesn't become watery in the bottom of the dish.

Court To Make Plans On Home

Hancock Group Will Convene On Nov. 16

Hancock County Court met Monday and set Nov. 16 for an organization meeting to launch plans for a children's home, including financing.

The county now has approximately $30,000 toward the home. There is no estimate of the cost of the project.

Ernest John and Dick Wright, representatives for Grant District; R. E. Roach and John Kuzio, Clay District, and Cirus Spear and David Frew, Butler District, will meet in the Courthouse with County Commissioners Charles Mitchell, president, of New Cumberland, William C. Graham of Chester, and Norman Ferrari of Weirton.

In other business, payments of $500 each were ordered for volunteer fire departments of Newell, Lawrenceville, Pughtown and New Cumberland as county aid.

Gus G. Diniaco of Weirton was approved as a notary public.

Donald Stewart, county clerk, said that all organizations desiring to use the court rooms for public meetings must apply at a regular monthly meeting of the court.

The county court meets on the first Mondays in February, March, May, June, July, September, October and November and the first Tuesday in January, April, August and December.

Police Study Flesh In Search For Baby Sitter

LACROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Police today awaited laboratory reports on two leads reported yesterday in the continued search for clues to the whereabouts of Evelyn Hartley, who vanished from a baby sitting job in Lacrosse the night of Oct. 24.

Under analysis were a piece of flesh and bone found near Lacrosse and bloodstains discovered in an auto at Minneapolis.

The tissue mass, which included seven ribs and a pelvis, was found yesterday off Highway 33, some seven miles east of here. It was wrapped in sheets of newspaper dated Sept. 27 and Oct. 11 and lay close enough to the road to have been thrown from an auto.

A Lacrosse physician specializing in laboratory medicine said he could not determine whether it was an animal or human tissue because it was too decayed. The specimen was sent to the state crime laboratory for intensive study.

Officials believed the state of decomposition of the flesh labeled the tissue mass as older than nine days which had elapsed since the night the 15-year-old girl vanished.

Bloodstains found in an auto at Minneapolis were on the car's back seat. A pair of girl's panties was discovered under the front seat.

Ohioans Can Tell By Colors On Map How Good Roads Are

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—How good are the state roads around your town?

Unless you are color blind, you can look at the state highway department's road sufficiency map and tell at a glance just what the department thinks of its primary state roads.

The map is printed in colors—green, blue, orange and red. The colors show how sufficient or adequate the department thinks each stretch of road is, considering the type of road, condition of its sur-dangerous curves, and the number of vehicles that use it.

This map will be one of the main exhibits at public hearings Wednesday and Thursday to consider classification of state highways. The newly-formed state highway construction council tentatively has classified the 18,540 miles of state roads. Some 5,977 miles are listed as major thoroughfares, 8,291 miles as auxiliary state roads, and 4,127 as state roads used mainly to travel between towns close together.

What do the colors on the sufficiency map mean?

Highest rating is green, which means the road is 80 to 100 per cent adequate for present day travel. Blue means 60 through 79 per cent sufficiency, orange 40 through 59 and red 10 through 39.

The department has been using the map for about one year, and the idea has spread to other states.

Let's take a few mental rides along some of the roads which the construction council has designated temporarily as major thoroughfares and, theoretically, as those which because of their heavy use should be the best:

Starting in Columbus we take Ohio 23 south. The first few miles are fine. Then the road drops to blue to the Pickaway County line, changes to orange to Circleville and to blue to the Ross County line. Then comes three miles of red, or critical area, road. Next is blue to Chillicothe, two miles of red, eight of orange, several miles of new highway, two miles of orange, five miles of blue (to Waverly), several miles under construction, blue to Piketon, under construction to the Scioto County line, and orange or under construction to Portsmouth. This road runs through the Pike County atomic plant area and likely will be a prime project when priorities are ironed out.

You'll find an excellent 60-mile stretch in the section of Ohio 40 from Springfield east to Kirkersville. From Springfield to the Indiana line it is half orange and half blue.

Continuing east from Kirkersville, you find roughly one mile of blue, 15 miles of orange, five of blue, 12 of new construction to near Zanesville, two miles of orange, 10 miles of orange and 12 of new construction to near Cambridge, a mile of red, then blue, green, orange, green, blue, green, new construction, green, orange, blue and orange in that order for the rest of the way to St. Clairsville. Quite a mixture.

The section of Ohio 20 from 10 miles west of Fremont to Norwalk, a new four-lane highway, is one of the best in the state.

Ohio 4 from Dayton to Cincinnati by way of Hamilton goes like this: Blue for three miles, green to Germantown, red and orange to Middletown, orange to Hamilton, blue and orange to Cincinnati. If you don't want to go to Hamilton, you can cut off on Ohio 747, a secondary and blue road.

Ohio 14 from Salem to Cleveland appears to be a critical area, with 16 miles of red roads and two bridges given a red rating. Routes 7 and 30 are red for about eight miles north from East Liverpool.

Suspect Bound Over In Route 30 Burglary

A man identified as Bucky Orock of Route 30, near the Pearl China Co., pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the Chat and Chew Inn at a preliminary hearing Saturday before Justice of the Peace Frank L. Heald Jr. of St. Clair Township.

Orock was bound over to the grand jury under $1,500 bond.

The Chat and Chew was entered sometime after 7 p. m. Friday and a pinball machine and a cigarette vendor were rifled.

He was arrested Saturday by Clarence Blosser, St. Clair Township constable.

PUC To Give Atomic Plant Workers Break On Power Rate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state utilities commission has acted to give Pike County atomic plant workers living in trailers a fair shake on their electric rates.

It turned down a plan of trailer park operators to resell electricity to their tenants and approved the prevent system of electric companies determining bills for trailer owners.

The commission adopted in full the recommendations of Charles B. Ballou, its attorney-examiner who heard testimony in cases involving the Southern Ohio Trailer Park Owners' Assn., the Ohio Power Co. and the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co.

Both companies have lines in the atomic plant area where for several years 30,000 temporary workers will be located. The number will drop swiftly to about 4,000 after the plant is constructed.

The companies, as a matter of policy, are against having their electricity resold by someone else such as trailer park operators.

The trailer park operators suggested they build their own electrical distribution systems and buy electricity from a power company. They in turn would resell it to trailer occupants, fixing the rates to tenants.

Ohio law does not give the state utilities commission power to regulate rates of "remetered" electricity.

The proposal recommended by the commission calls for the power company to install the system for distributing electricity to individual trailers. The trailer park operator would pay for the system.

But the power company would refund to the trailer park operator yearly 10 per cent of the amount charged for its electricity. This amount would be applied against the cost of the distribution system.

Trailer park operators wanted the right to fix electric charges to tenants.

Ballou said the companies had indicated they will go ahead on the recommendations. Ohio Power suggested the plan at a meeting and the other company indicated then it would go along with 10 per cent annual refunds to trailer park operators.

Viewing The Results

Today you vote; tomorrow you view the results.

After each election there are people who moan that their vote was useless and others who claim they voted for all the winners.

The first person needs to be congratulated for helping to make our democracy work. He voted for his candidate regardless of the little chance he felt he had.

This is necessary to keep our system going. If we stay away from the polls because our candidate hasn't a chance or don't bother to vote for an issue because everyone seems to be against it we aren't protecting ourselves.

So long as we go to the polls and vote—express our opinion on candidates and issues—we are doing our right as citizens, we are making democracy work.

The fellow who voted for all the winners may have done so by honest decision, but chances are he looked over the ballot and "played the favorites."

What good did his vote do? Elections shouldn't be popularity contests in which you vote for a person because he is a favorite. Vote for a candidate because he is best for that particular office. The favorite might be the poorest man running for office.

Tonight and tomorrow when the results are viewed look at them from a standpoint of whether they are good for the community, not whether you scored 100 per cent in picking the winners.

If you voted honestly and conscientiously chances are you didn't pick all the winners but you did vote for democracy and our way of life.

A Year For Taxes

Taxpayers in Ohio had it easy in 1953 compared to those in many other states, there being only 35 tax law changes written into the records this year.

Thirty-five may seem like a lot, but many of these changes effected by the state legislature were minor revisions, according to tabulations compiled by the Commerce Clearing House, Inc.

Across the country there was an all-time record of 2,868 tax law changes, nearly twice the number made in 1951, the previous high year.

This bears out a continuing complaint by states of a need for more funds on the state level.

But be heartened, all changes weren't the type that added to the tax burden—some states showed a downward trend, and in addition to Ohio, six other more populous states listed comparatively few changes.

Setting the pace with 182 changes was Florida, with Minnestoa, 176, and California, 167, close behind.

Maryland, Idaho, New York and South Dakota cut personal income taxes and Iowa made a temporary deduction permanent. Delaware, however, raised its income levy. Maryland also reduced its franchise tax on savings bank deposits but voted to extend existing corporation taxes and hike the gasoline tax.

Others increasing gasoline revenues included Ohio, California, Iowa and Nebraska. Pennsylvania put into effect a new sales tax.

Little Rhode Island was low among the states with only 10 changes recorded. Louisiana had only one but that was in a special session, there being no regular legislature session scheduled. Kentucky, Mississippi and Virginia legislatures didn't meet, so recorded no changes.

Taxes aren't pleasant but they are inevitable. At the local level they must be voted on by the people. On state and national levels they are passed by our elected representatives who aren't always as responsive to public feelings as we would have them be.

Curious, But No Big Demand

If you have put your order in to Santa Claus for a color TV set this Christmas you may get your wish—but you'd better fill your stocking with greenbacks before he arrives.

Since the advent of television, the public has been sitting back waiting for color—and for several years, legal squabbles have held back firms from taking positive steps toward providing color TV.

But not it seems to be just around the corner, though it likely will be another two years before it will be cheap enough for the great mass of the American purchasing public.

Industry spokesmen point out that the first color sets will retail for about $750 to $1,000 with only 14-inch screens. With black and white sets with 27-inch screens available for less than $300, it seems doubtful that mass buying of black and white will decline much until color really proves itself and comes down the price ladder.

More than 25 million standard sets are now in use in the United States with TV aerials sprouting out from all types of housing settlements — cellar homes, trailers, barracks. How many of these persons are going to flock to the store and trade in their sets just so they can see an occasional color telecast?

Color TV may be ready for delivery by Santa, but it'll still be some time till it will burden him with its demand.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

Don't Just Talk Democracy, Get Out And Vote

George Sokolsky

Everybody these days talks about democracy, employing the word loosely to imply a myriad of meanings. But what is called democracy can have no political implications unless the citizens go to the polls and vote for those who are to govern them.

It must be granted that the candidates are often such as to leave the voter without choice. Mr. X is no more attractive as a public official than Mr. Y and neither discusses any important issue.

Nevertheless, the mere act of voting is inherent in citizenship, unless we are to interpret an unwillingness to vote not only as a boycott of the candidates but as a loss of faith in our form of government.

ONE ELECTION I voted for a candidate who had no chance of winning and whose prime virtue was that he wore a beard. I went to the polls and, in effect, voted for Mr. Nobody because I could not in conscience vote for the candidates of either party.

On another occasion I did not vote at all. I was wrong. Even if one enters the polls and votes for nobody, it is sounder than to refrain from voting altogether because by going to the polls, by the physical act of attendance, one participates in government by choice which, in our political system, goes back to the Declaration of Independence.

JUDGE LEARNED Hand has stated the case in this fashion:

"Indeed the apathy of the modern voter is the confusion of the modern reformer. I live where that apathy seems to have attacked even the deepest ganglia; no disclosures, no scandals, can stir the voters from their inertia.

"Doubtless things might become uncomfortable enough to arouse them, but, given reasonable opportunity for personal favors, and a not too irksome control, they are content to abdicate their sovereignty and to be fleeced, if the shepherds will only shear them in their sleep.

"That was not the presupposition of our traditional democracy, which assumed an intelligent attention and capacity in public affairs, and a will directed towards the general good. . ."

Judge Hand lives in New York City where 8,500,000 other persons, mostly Americans, live.

GRANTED THAT some of these citizens come from parts of the world where government by choice is unknown, but their numbers, in comparison with the entire population, are not large.

Furthermore, in other cities where the immigrant population is much smaller, the number of citizens who vote in all elections, especially those dealing only with local offices, is comparatively small.

In the present election in New York, only a fraction of the population came out to register. They permitted the election to go by default.

When the people minimize their interest in public affairs, when such a question as whether a man named Julius does or does not marry a girl called Dot rises to front page significance during a municipal campaign, the apathy of the people approaches apostasy.

IT OPENS the door to government by racketeers, for when the institutions of the people are deserted by the people, they will be seized by those who can profit by them.

Thus, in city after city, corruption has almost come to be recognized as inevitable, just as during the Prohibition period, such creatures as Al Capone, Dutch Schultz, and their cohorts were even regarded as essential to the maintenance of order because the police had abdicated their authority.

It would seem futile to spend billions of dollars in all parts of the world extolling the virtues of our form of government — of government by choice — if we abandon this very system by staying away from the polls, or even worse, by avoiding debate and discussion of issues because they are boresome, by refraining from the controversial.

FREEDOM, the preservation of freedom, depends upon discussion and controversy and the hammering of public issues on the anvil of debate.

Each year, this is said. In the last presidential election, the Advertising Council, by constant reiteration of the subject in press and radio, somehow brought the citizens to the polls. Then the interest subsided.

The people want taxes down and they would prefer not to dwell on these subjects; they revert to the joys of personal life.

They leave government to professional politicians and to racketeers.

That is neither democracy nor representative government. It is a retreat from Americanism.

Inside On Labor

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

Deep in the heart of Chicago's stockyards, among those who slaughter cattle and prepare the meats for millions of American dinner tables, are some union members and officials who would butcher American democracy the first moment they could.

Some of these people have blasted our foreign policy. They have assailed the FBI and have ordered their union members not to cooperate in the pursuit of the remaining five Communist fugitives from justice—one of whom, Gil Green by name, used to lecture them on tactics.

Higher echelons in this union have blasted the U.S. for indicting Owen Lattimore, whom they still call "an outstanding authority on the Near East."

-:-

A LESSER leader of this union has actually gone to Moscow on a junket prepared by the most vicious of pro-Soviet agencies. And he has returned to give press conferences at which he released Soviet propaganda.

Yet this union, the United Packinghouse Workers, CIO, has just been given a clean bill of political health by a three - man CIO investigating committee—a decision which could split CIO wide open.

This three-man committee turned its friendly report in to the CIO executive committee in Washington the other day—and that body was hit by such turmoil that CIO chief Walter Reuther withheld action on the findings.

The investigators, appointed by Reuther some time ago to probe the Packinghouse Union, concluded that it wasn't following the Communist line anywhere.

It seems to me that this decision must have been prompted by a misguided philosophical fear that it is illiberal to charge anyone with being sympathetic to, or infiltrated by, pro-Communists.

-:-

FACT OF THIS matter is that the top leadership of the Packinghouse Union last May distributed a four-page, two-color (yellow and white) tabloid paper assailing American foreign policy in the Orient.

For a union which had had to borrow money to keep going in the past, this is certainly more than a slight over-sensitivity to our refusal to recognize Red China.

This tabloid, issued under the imprimatur of the union's Executive Council, called our foreign policy "absurd." It wept for Owen Lattimore in these sobbing words:

"We do know how Lattimore, an outstanding authority on the Far East, has been hounded and harassed."

-:-

THE UNION then came to the defense of one Abe Flaxer, leader of the pro-Communist United Public Workers, which, according to congressional testimony, has been an agency for Communist infiltration into the government. This outfit was kicked out of the CIO itself a few years back for following CP policies.

But that's not all. One of the Packinghouse Union's locals, 347, which has jurisdiction over 6,000 Armour workers, functions right under the nose of the Packinghouse national office in Chicago. Yet Leon Beverly, as president of the Armour Local, was listed as one of the American Committee to Survey Trade Union Conditions in Europe.

No ordinary committee this one. It was organized and is run by one Charles Velson.

This organizer, a notorious prosovieteer, has refused to deny under congressional oath that he was the assistant to master-spy Jay Peters, the same man who gave Whittaker Chambers many of his orders back in the thirties.

VELSON ALSO refused to deny, before a congressional committee, that he had been assigned by Peters to help plant Soviet agents in the U.S. armed forces.

When the Packinghouse official, Leon Beverly himself, was asked at a congressional committee hearing to deny membership in the Communist party, he refused to answer on the ground that he might incriminate himself.

There are at least 30 others who have similar records and are, to varying degrees, active in the Packinghouse Workers Union—including one Charles Maybray.

As secretary of Local 81 of that union, Maybray actually went to Poland and Moscow with a group including Leon Strauss, who acts as grand marshal of Communist May Day parades.

-:-

THIS RECORD could roll on for yards more of columnar space. But it's all the same—a record of men who place the blame for world crisis on America.

This is a record of men who say we fight off our allies' demands for recognition of Red China by "sheer weight of wealth and power."

Undoubtedly, the clearing of this union by a small CIO committee will become a convention issue when the CIO meets in Cleveland in a few weeks. Already sides are being chosen.

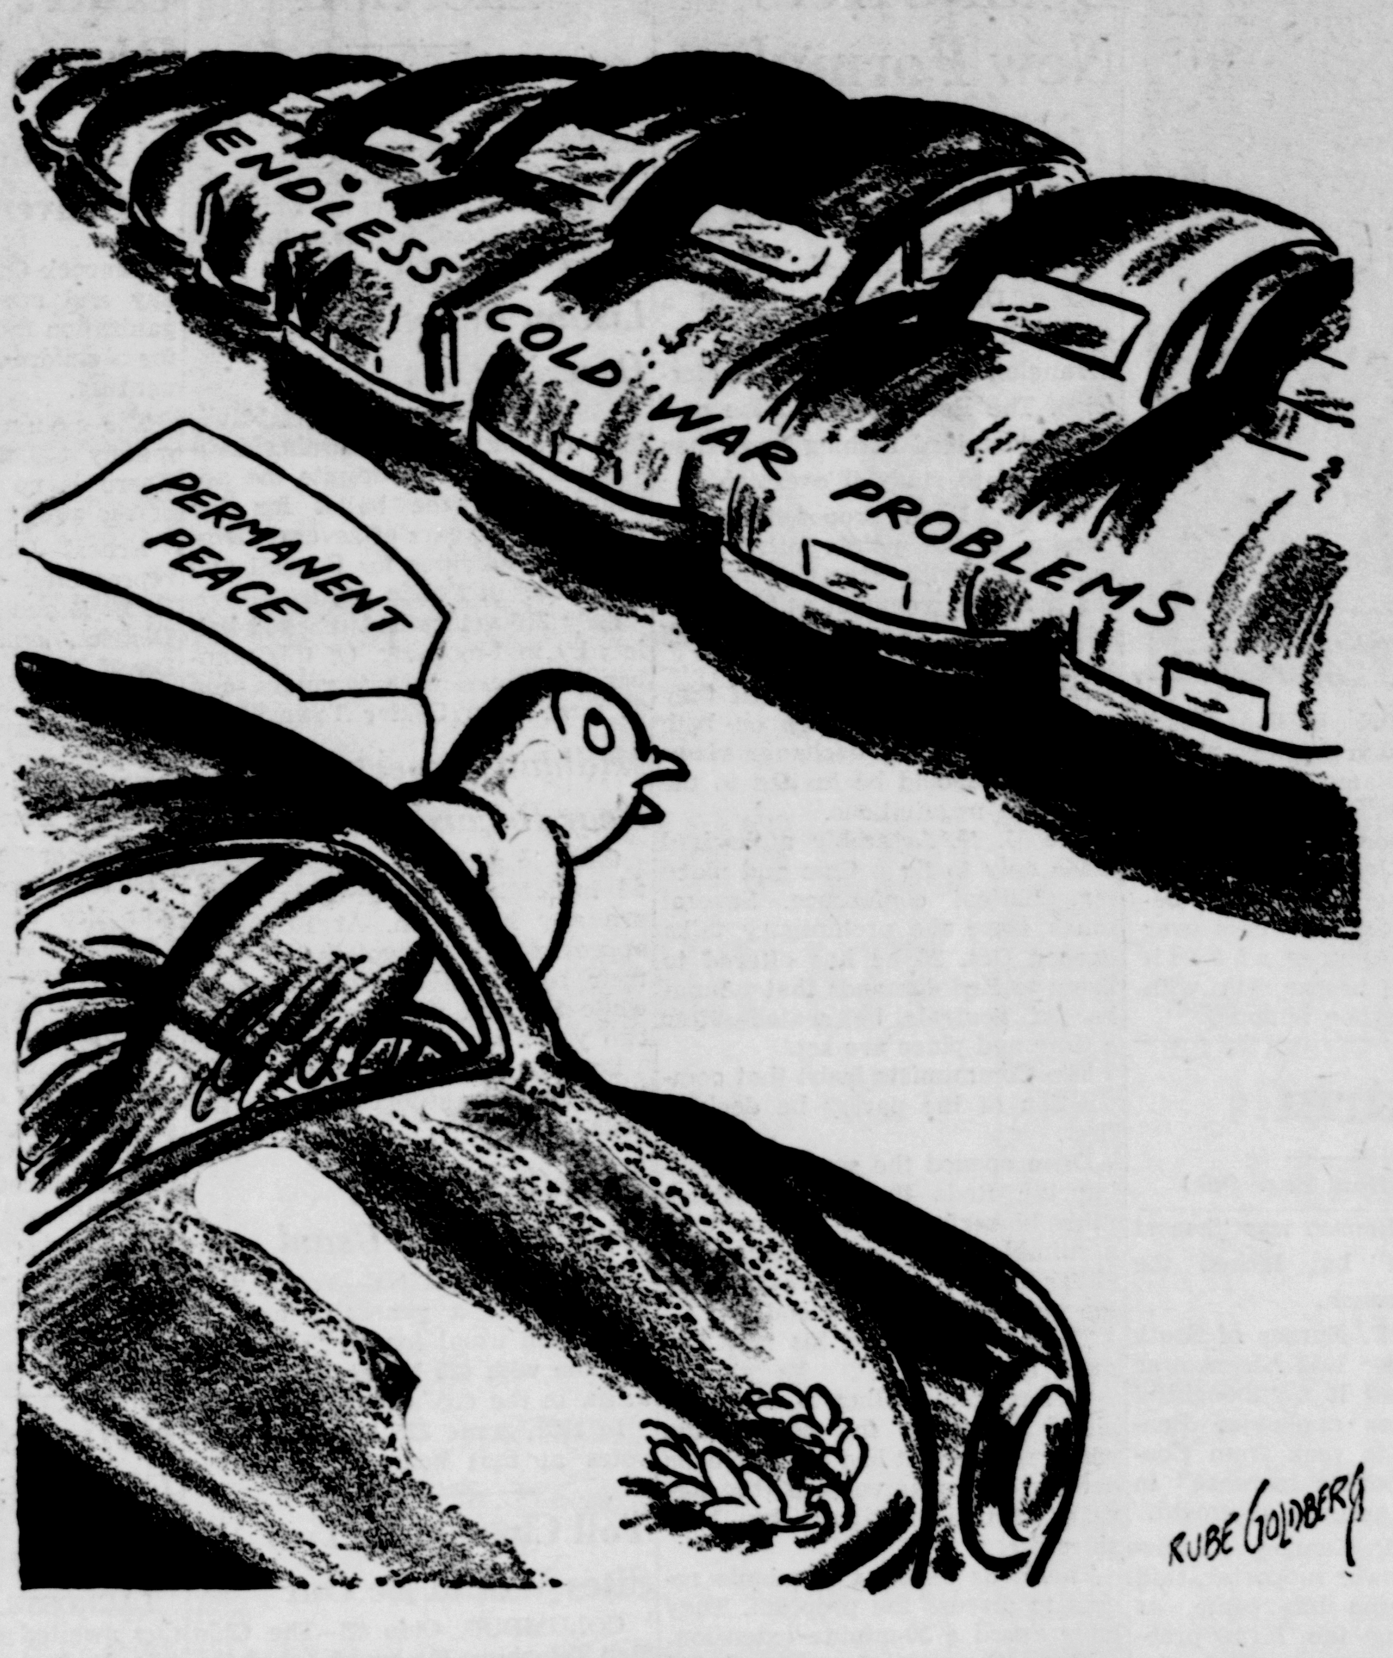
No Place To Park



Military Forces Undermined By U.S. Gag

By David Lawrence

Military men hereabouts are wondering why reenlistments are so few and why officers aren't choosing a career in the armed services, and why morale is low.

Maybe the answer is to be found in the lack of forthrightness by so many of our military officers of high rank, who seem to have come to believe that if the Department of State, under Secretary Acheson or anybody else, tells them to suppress the truth from the American people about the way our soldiers have been treated by the enemy, they must keep silent and do nothing about it.

How much longer will American boys be drafted and ordered to fight, while the use of weapons and military tactics are dictated by diplomats here and overseas?

This question deserves a congressional investigation, if indeed chairmen of armed services committees have the temerity to expose the mistakes of bureaucracy.

THE FACTS that have come out show that on November 15, 1951, Col. Hanley, then section chief in the office of the judge advocate general of the Eighth Army in Korea, issued a statement charging that the Communists had killed or starved to death tens of thousands of prisoners of war of all nationalities, including about 6,000 American soldiers.

A furor ensued in Washington and London. Why wasn't Hanley censured? Some U.N. ambassadors wanted to know if the replrt was issued to delay the truce talks. Gen. Ridgway, commander in chief in the Far East, said it wasn't Hanley's responsibility to issue the report, but he did say that it was possible that more than 6,000 Americans listed as missing may have been captured and killed by the Communists. Finally, on November 27, 1951, Gen. Ridgway admitted the total of Americans killed in atrocities as numbering 6,270. Last week the official american total was placed at 6,113.

President Truman was reported at the time of the Hanley episode to be checking into the matter. Several senators and members of the House—Democrats and Republicans—demanded that something be done about it. But nothing was done.

THE TRUMAN administration remained silent. This was not surprising because Mr. Truman had removed from command in Korea Gen. MacArthur, who had warned the Communists he would hold their leaders personally responsible for the atrocities.

Bowing to the demands of the British and other members of the U.N., the Truman administration—even though knowing early in 1951 a good deal about the atrocities—had refused to allow the U.N. forces to pursue the enemy to the Yalu or to bombard their bases of supply beyond the border, though this was territory controlled by the enemy fighting us.

Since then the Communists have had nothing to fear from any U.N. military retaliation — for it was publicly announced in effect that there would be none.

THIS CORRESPONDENT on November 15, 1951, wrote in these dispatches:

"What the Chinese Communists have done in murdering 5,790 United Nations prisoners and tens of thousands of Korean civilians would seem to deserve a denunciation so severe that no new government in China would ever be admitted to the U.N. or to the family of nations until those Chinese responsible for the Korean crimes are punished. . .

"If some anti-Communist regime does some day win military supremacy, the American government and other governments, before extending recognition, might well demand as a first condition the execution of the Communist leaders who permitted the Korean atrocities to happen. . .

"The Communists haven't many U.N. prisoners left to give back, and now that the facts are revealed, a breaking off in truce negotiations would not be surprising.

"There isn't much to negotiate, with an enemy guilty of such barbarism that it violates all humane rules. Such an enemy's word on a truce agreement would be valueless."

-:-

THERE WAS a long break in the truce negotiations later on, but the Eisenhower administration, accepting the Truman doctrine of a localized operation with inhibitions on military action, finally agreed in the spring of 1953 to the terms of a truce.

Pussyfoot diplomacy was the controlling influence. The Communists lied about the number of wounded prisoners they had, and they have been breaking the truce agreement in other respects ever since.

Small wonder that American boys don't want to be drafted and that young men in the Army see no career ahead—when the State Department offers them up as sacrifices in a "local " war and refuses to allow maximum military force to be used to defend them.

Small wonder that the U.N. is daily losing prestige inside this country, because it is so unconcerned about or indifferent to what happens to American youth in uniform.

Many of the U.N. members are still talking of admitting a barbarian government to the Security Council of the U.N. and they call all this "repelling aggression" and a "victory for collective security."

It is instead slowly breaking down confidence in the efficacy of international cooperation just as it did in the '20's and '30's.

That's the sure way to encourage an enemy to miscalculate the true willingness of the Western World to fight if war comes again.

The Tax Bite

By Bob Considine

The federal tax bite is especially harsh in certain fields of endeavor where the earner is a loner — such as a doctor or a lawyer or a writer. This naturally doesn't apply to lone ex-presidents, lone ex-generals, or Katherine Winsor, who writes only for fun, not profit, and may or may not be a loner as we go to press.

The working stiff who earns a buck without the aid and comfort of a personally-owned business or building has little or no way of blunting the tax blow or getting capital gains, unless he ventures into the field of outside speculation, which he generally cannot afford.

There is no refuge against his physical and mental depreciation and deterioration, as there would be if he were something inanimately valuable, like an oil well.

INVENTORS stand under this cloud, too. But the National Patent Council is doing something about them. John W. Anderson, president, has carried his alarmed views to the House Ways and Means Committee, through which tax revision laws must be funneled.

Anderson's beef is that the Internal Revenue Bureau and our courts are in bewildering conflict over whether an inventor must pay through the nose as soon as his doo-dad pays off or pay the gentler capital gains tab.

The bureau says pay up. A number of courts have ruled that an invention may be the fruit of years of work and therefore an inventor should have as much right to keep 75 per cent of what he makes as a man who buys a stock, keeps it for six months, and sells it.

-:-

THERE WERE 13 per cent fewer patent applications last year than in 1950, and Anderson blames this tax snarl for the decline. The incentive is fading, he adds.

The tinkerers have not given up entirely, of course. There are 180,000 patent applications now waiting processing in the Patent Office.

Among recently granted patents: a motor-driven wheelbarrow . . a cigarette holder that completely envelops the cigarette. The ashes remain in the holder until it is convenient to shake them out . . . An 8-faced clock that tells the corresponding time in any selected part of the world . . . a "noiseless noiseless" typewriter . . . and a push-button beer can puncher.

The Airwave Influence

"Beat it! Scram!" said Elmer Twitchell to his wife.

"Don't worry, I'm fed up with this," said the wife.

"You've been getting difficult for a long time," said Elmer. "You've lost that certain something. It's hard to describe."

"Humility, I suppose," snapped Mrs. Twitchell.

"Exactly," said Elmer. "You either have it or you ain't got it. Get going!"

"This breakup is pretty sudden, not that I care," said the missus.

"I'd have buttered you up more and given you a better sendoff, dear, but something went wrong with my timing. I love you very much. You're wonderful," declared Elmer.

"You can't rush my packing that way," insisted Mrs. Twitchell. "I love you, too. I adore you. I never met anybody I thought so much of, you big heel!"

-:-

"I knew the first time I met you that you had talent, charm, everything," said Elmer. "It's unmistakable. I realized you would go far as long as you retained your innate bashfulness."

"I know . . . the old sense of shyness," scoffed the wife.

"That's it," said Elmer. "I noticed it begin to disappear quite a while back and I was thinking of letting you go, but . . ."

"But what?" demanded Mrs. Twitchell.

"I didn't think you were READY," said Mr. Twitchell.

"You're so sweet," said Mrs. Twitchell, picking up a vase and taking her windup.

"You must understand we are one big family around here," said Elmer, dodging the lamp and letting go with a five-pound bookend. "We have to keep that certain homey quality. We must love each other, work together in the happiest mood and always reflect sweetness. You've got personality, charm and everything else, like I said, but it's time for you to build a career on your own. Don't slam the door as you go out."

-:-

The wail of a baby came from the nursery.

"What's the matter with that kid now?" asked Elmer.

"No humility," said the wife.

"Sounds like he might even have an agent," snapped Mr. Twitchell.

Marshall McClintock has written a book on the life of A. C. Gilbert, former world champion collegiate pole vaulter, now a millionaire toy manufacturer . . . Gilbert graduated from Yale as a doctor and floored his parents by announcing he wanted to make a business of feats of magic, which had always been a hobby with him. His father decided to let him do so to get it out of his system.

Gilbert started making tricks for kids in an old cabin outside New Haven and was doing well when he hit upon the Erector Set idea, which was like striking oil.

An Alberta funeral director has built a seven-room house out of embalming fluid "empties." . . . There's a man who may be said to take his work home with him.

We have just run across a punch-drunk "videot." His doctor has ordered him to space his fights and not tune into more than two on any one night.

The ICC has permitted Eastern railroads to abolish the traditional free baggage (up to 150 pounds) rule and charge passengers up to a half dollar for anything checked through. The decision was "in the bag," of course. Nobody seems to strain himself much to protect the cash customer any more and the railroad passenger who has to go places with baggage is no exception. The Redcaps upped rates some years ago.

Charge for checking through baggage will now run into real dough. . . . Remember away back when railroads went all out to make life easier for the passengers?

Sen. Flanders Asks Probe Of Finance Man

Objects To Military Man Being Named Army Comptroller

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) today marked down for further investigation the Army's practice of having a military man as its comptroller or chief financial officer.

Flanders, head of an armed services subcommittee checking into the way the Pentagon spends the government's defense billions, told newsmen this seemed "most un-businesslike" to him.

He announced that Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens would be recalled for further questioning about it tomorrow.

Stevens, flanked by his comptroller, Lt. Gen. George H. Decker, defended the setup at a hearing yesterday. But two New York business executives, who served as experts for the 1949 Hoover Commission on defense organization, testified that all three armed service comptrollers should be civilians, as the comptroller for the Defense Department now is.

Meanwhile, the subcommittee today called Secretary of the Navy Robert B. Anderson and Asst. Secretary of the Air Force H. Lee White to talk about their fiscal problems.

Secretary of Defense Wilson is to appear at an afternoon session.

The Air Force has a lieutenant general as comptroller. In the Navy the post is held by an assistant secretary who also has other duties.

Two men who supported the idea of civilian comptrollers in all three services were Ferdinand Eberstadt, investment banker, and Franz Schneider, a mining company executive.

Eberstadt helped draft the 1947 Armed Services' Unification Act and a 1949 amendment sponsored by Sen. Byrd (D-Va) and designed to put the Pentagon's financial affairs on a businesslike basis. The Flanders subcommittee is looking into the workings of this amendment.

Eberstadt testified yesterday he felt the Korean War ammunition shortages might have been cleared up more quickly if the Army had had a civilian comptroller.

He and Schneider both said the comptrollers should be civilians, should have no other duties, and should report directly to the secretary in their service. The Army and Air Force comptrollers now report to their respective chiefs of staff as well as their secretaries.

Flanders told reporters the disagreement about the comptrollers was one of the key points before his subcommittee. But he said he was even more interested in improved accounting and inventory practices in the armed services.

"Congress appropriated almost 75 billion dollars between the end of World War II and 1949, yet we were short of almost everything when war came in Korea," he said. "Now we can't even find out what became of that money."

Defense spending now is running at a rate above 40 billion dollars a year.

Driver Wrecks Truck, To Need Skin Grafting

DENNISON, Ohio (AP)— A truck driver who, State Highway Patrolmen said, lost control when he tried to pick up a dropped cigarette from his cab floor, will need extensive skin grafts for burns received when the vehicle crashed and burned.

Russell G. Kirk, 23, of Ashland, Ky., was pulled from the cab of his automobile transport when it struck a culvert six miles north of here Sunday and caught fire. He was burned severely before three men who rescued him extinguished his flaming clothing by rolling him on the ground.

Garbage Dump Fires Continue

Wellsville Blamed On Ignoring Warning

The stink of burning garbage and papers still rises from the Wellsville city dump in Yellow Creek Township, the County Health Department declared today, despite warnings to remedy the nuisance.

B. Russell Franklin, county sanitarian, after an inspection Monday at the refuse dump off Route 39 seven miles from Wellsville, reported there has been no change in operations since he wrote city officials last month.

Fires have sprung up over the rubbish heap, causing a nauseating round-the-clock odor which has irritated area residents.

The dump continues to smoulder although state health regulations require fires which start accidentally are to be extinguished immediately.

Wellsville officials were told by Franklin that garbage and dead animals and putrid matter shall not be disposed at the dump, unless immediately compacted and buried under two feet of soil, the working face of the dump should be periodically covered, all material such as tincans and papers shall be covered not less than three times per week, or necessary measures be taken to control blowing papers, and surrounding area be kept neat and clean.

None of the rules has been met, Franklin said, and his suggestion that a trench type dump be considered so its working face could be covered with less effort has not been heeded.

As the system exists now, many tons of earth are required to cover the refuse on the sloping bank, the sanitarian explained.

400 Convicts Snooze Off Bender On Sleeping Pills

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—All was quiet at the Washington State Penitentiary last night.

It should have been.

Some 400 convicts were snoozing off the effects of a weekend bender on sleeping pills.

Warden John Cranor tells this story:

Inmate employes of the Penitentiary's warehouse got curious Saturday when a shipment of war surplus hospital supplies arrived. They happened to open a box containing 40,000 Nebutal tablets.

They passed 10,000 pills around to other convicts and, as one guard put it:

"By Monday morning the whole prison population had rubber legs. A man would be walking down the sidewalk and fall flat on his face.

"We put them in wing one until there just got to be too many of them."

A shakedown by prison guards, Cranor said, turned up most of the pills gobbled down by the prisoners or flushed down the toilets just prior to the shakedown.

Archeologists Find Ancient Skeletons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State Museum archeologists have found skeletons of two women of the Adena Indian civilization, estimated to have flourished in Ohio between 400 BC and 700 AD.

The skeletons were found near the top of a large Indian mound in Columbus near the Scioto River. The area is being leveled for an industrial site.

Union Event Planned

Calvary Church Chosen For Thanksgiving Services

East Liverpool Protestant churches will conduct their traditional union Thanksgiving service.

The Ministerial Association at its monthly meeting Monday in the YMCA approved recommendations of the union and special day committe for the service to be held in the Calvary Methodist Church at 10 a. m. Thursday, Nov. 26.

The speaker will be the Rev. William C. Newman, pastor of the First Church of Christ. The Rev. W. A. Hewitt, pastor of the Calvary Church, will preside. He also was given the task of assigning other ministers who will take part. The choir of the host church will provide the music.

Reviving a custom, followed for several years but not recently, the offering will be turned over to City Hospital.

East End churches will unite for a union service of Thanksgiving Wednesday night, Nov. 25. Ministers of the East End churches were scheduled to meet this week to select a place and speaker.

The association also changed the monthly meetings from the first Monday to the first Tuesday. Business sessions will be held at 11 a. m. in the Y, followed by a dinner at noon in the Travelers Hotel.

The speaker at yesterday's luncheon was the Rev. Stanley H. Mullen, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who reviewed the book, "A Faith to Proclaim," by James S. Stewart, a professor in the University of Edinburgh.

Rev. Newman, president, presided for business while the Rev. Wilbert T. Wilson of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church was luncheon chairman.

Young And Single Drivers Face Hike In Car Insurance

Unmarried auto owners and operators under 25 in the Chester and Newell district face an increase in basic auto liability insurance rates under a new insurance schedule approved by the West Virginia Insurance Commission.

Such drivers must pay $99 annually instead of $76 for the basic type of policy which allows $5,000 per person or $10,000 per accident in bodily injury cases and $5,000 for property damage.

If a driver subject to the higher rate is married, he would qualify as a safe driver and his insurance cost would drop $16 in urban areas, with proportionate reductions in other localities.

The birth of a child, increasing the responsibility of the insured, would mean a further reduction in the rate.

With the exception of this application, most other classifications receive slightly lower rates in the new schedules approved by State Insurance Commissioner Thomas J. Gillooly. The new rates are particularly favorable to farmers.

The new plan already has been accepted by 28 states. It is retroactive to Oct. 22.

The rate plan was offered by the Mutual Insurance Rating Bureau and National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, both of New York. Virtually all insurance companies doing business in West Virginia participate in the new program.

Gillooly, in approving the rates for West Virginia, said they should "at least have the opportunity to meet the test of practical experience."

He added that he foresaw the possibility of certain phases of the plan causing "administrative difficulties."

4 Ohio Papers Win Honors

Outstanding News, Photo Work Cited

CHICAGO (AP)—Four Ohio member newspapers of The Associated Press today won national honors for outstanding news and newsphoto coverage.

They were awarded national citations by The Associated Press Managing Editors' Assn., meeting in annual sessions here. The citations went to the Findlay Republican-Courier, Portsmouth Times, Columbus Ohio State Journal and Columbus Dispatch.

The managing editors' association is composed of news department executives of newspapers that are members of The Associated Press. The AP is a cooperative group of newspapers and radio stations functioning to expedite the exchange of news and news photographs among its members.

The Findlay Republican - Courier and the Portsmouth Times received national honors because of their outstanding coverage of news events.

The citations to the Ohio State Journal and Columbus Dispatch were in recognition of outstanding cooperation in providing news pictures for distribution via AP's Wirephoto system. Photographs are sent by wire on the Wirephoto network covering the country from coast to coast.

Findlay's honors stemmed from coverage of tornadoes that swept northwestern Ohio last June.

Portsmouth's resulted from a comprehensive report on the status of the atomic plant under construction in nearby Pike County.

Graphic photographs of the riot at Ohio Penitentiary starting on Halloween Eve 1952 brought the honors to the Columbus newspapers.

When word came from Washington that Pike County was to be the site of an atomic plant, Editor John G. Green of the Portsmouth Times knew his staff had a new job of work cut out for it. Reporting the many and varied activities connected with the birth and growth of an atomic installation would be an exacting one. Green assigned L. W. (Bill) Burns, a veteran member of his staff, as his chief atomic reporter.

Nearing the first anniversary of the atomic project, Burns went to work on a detailed report of what had happened, what was in sight for the future, and what had been the impact of the venture upon a countryside jerked from a quiet, rural existence into the whirlwind of a bustling industrial project.

Burns' story ran 1,500 words. Editor Green, reading it, realized its importance as news for other AP newspapers and made it available for distribution by AP. The review was used widely, the same day it appeared in the Portsmouth Times.

With a smile which seems to indicate satisfaction, Norman Thomas, who ran for President six times on the Socialist ticket, leaves the White House after protesting to President Eisenhower on what he calls "blundering attempts" by some federal agencies to erase all Socialists from the U. S. payroll. The President is reported to have promised that wholesale firings will not be permitted.

Judge Brennan Cited Over Disbarment Case

The West Virginia Supreme Court at Charleston Monday directed Circuit Judge J. H. Brennan to appear Nov. 17 and show why he should not be prohibited from proceeding further in the disbarment case against two Weirton lawyers.

William T. Fahey and Martin T. Fahey, brothers, petitioned the court last week for a writ which would prevent Judge Brennan from naming a special judge to hear the case against them.

They contended that Judge Brennan had "contemptuously disobeyed" a previous Supreme Court directive to name a substitute judge to hear the case.

Judge Brennan initiated the disbarment proceeding on the ground the Fahey brothers knowingly permitted witnesses to give false testimony on behalf of a client charged with manslaughter.

5 Schools Get TB Patch Test

Kindergarten, First Grade Pupils Checked

The tuberculosis patch test was administered to kindergarden and first grade pupils at five county schools Monday, Miss Laura Clark, supervisor of health department nurses, reported.

Children were given tests at West, United Local, Rogers and Negley Schools and the East Palestine parochial school, she said.

Nov. 16, health department nurses will be at Yellow Creek, Fairview and Highlandtown schools to give the patch test, which requires the consent of a parent.

Final testing will be done at Knox Local School Nov. 30.

Miss Clark reported that of 802 children enrolled in first grades at East Liverpool schools, 673 were patch-tested. Of those 6 were found positive.

Five of the pupils whose tests were positive reported for to the health department for X-rays. Their parents also were X-rayed. The one pupil did not report because the family moved to Kansas.

Boat Club Buys Wellsville Tract For Expansion

The Wellsville Boat Club has purchased five blocks of land along the Ohio River from the Aladdin's Crippled Children's Home in Columbus for expansion of dock and parking facilities, Albert Gleckler, president, said today.

The strip between the river's edge to the top of the embankment of Riverside Ave. extends from 16th to 21st Sts. It was part of the estate of the late Davey Thomas.

The club's docks are located at 18th St. The more than 100 feet of docking will be removed Sunday and covered for protection during the winter. It will be put back at the same site next year, according to Gleckler. He said the parking area will be extended in both directions.

Glecker said a Wellsville pottery has agreed to make several fills along the site.

The club constructed 100 feet of dock and a concrete ramp during the summer. In addition, the site was graded and electric lights installed.

The membership increased from 11 to 29.

Several long excursions were made, including two round trips of more than 100 miles.

Salineville Promised Faster Bridge Repairs

SALINEVILLE — A speedup of repair on a bridge in the village has been promised by the contractor, according to Charles Snyder, county engineer, who said the project, which has split the town traffic, may be completed in about three weeks.

The repair job was originally scheduled to take five weeks. Traffic over the bridge in the center of the village was halted last week, causing a long detour over Foundry Hill to get from one part of town to the other, while through traffic has been re-routed about the village.

Snyder reported the contractor said he could not permit one-way traffic across the bridge, as suggested by townspeople, because his liability insurance would be voided in event of an accident. The contractor said more men would be put on the job.

Funeral Set Thursday For Judge Matthias

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Broad Street Presbyterian Church in Columbus for Edward Shiloh Matthias, 80-year-old dean of Ohio Supreme Court jurists.

The comment of Judge James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati, was typical. He called him "not only a great judge but a delightful companion and a real anchor to the court."

Elliott Found Sane; Murder Trial Slated

Richard Elliott of East Liverpool, the ambush killer of Mrs. Violet Brewer in her Jethro bedroom last May, appeared Monday in Common Pleas Court and was declared sane by Judge Joel S. Sharp.

Judge Sharp bases his decision on the fact that the defendant's counsel had no evidence to present on the young Army veteran's present sanity status.

Elliott's attorneys in the first degree murder trial which opens Wednesday are George A. Aronson and Richard J. Clark, both of East Liverpool.

Prosecutor J. L. MacDonald and assistant, William Brokaw Jr., attended the hearing.

Police said Elliott confessed killing the 34-year-old housewife with a rifle shot because Mrs. Brewer insisted Elliott cease courting her stepdaughter and the woman's refusal to turn over a bill of sale of a car purchased by the defendant.

Sheriff Howard Clark returned Elliott to the Mahoning County Jail after the hearing.

A Lesson from the Chinese

THE STORY is told that the Chinese pay the doctor to keep them well, and if they contract illness, the doctor pays them instead. Whether or not this story is true, the general idea is sound. Serious illness often can be prevented by regular health examinations. Form a habit of visiting your doctor often—at least twice a year. Fairview Rd. Parking Hit In Council Action

Co-Operation Of Car Owners Will Be Asked By Chester Group

A warning to auto owners along Fairview Rd., Chester, was issued by City Council Monday following a discussion of parking conditions in the narrow road where traffic has been slowed and halted on occasion.

Councilman Roy Cashdollar reported he was asked by county school officials to remedy the parking situation as a school bus was recently blocked twice in one week.

Robert Lindsey, assistant county superintendent, wrote Cashdollar a bus was held up for 15 minutes while a car owner was routed from bed to move his car and widen passage for the bus.

The problem arises with parking on both sides as there is no room for cars to park off the road on the east side.

Co-operation of residents in the area is to be requested by Council or an ordinance prohibiting parking on one side will be passed.

Solution of another city parking problem was reached with the passage of an ordinance forbidding parking on the north side of Knowles Alley.

Council approved the measure under suspension of rules to remedy the crowded conditions in the narrow passage where parking had been prohibited on the south side.

Auto owners living on the north side will be expected to park their vehicles on the other side of the alley or on Dunn St. or Louisiana Ave.

Council granted permission for the use of 4th St. between Carolina Ave. and Indiana Ave. for parking during the public pancake suppers sponsored by the Kiwanis Club Nov. 13 and 14 at the City Hall.

Council voted to obtain $8,000 from the state sinking fund to help defray expenses of purchasing and installing a new electric pump at the upper pump station of the Municipal Water Works.

Jackson Rips Handling Of Criminal Laws

Calls Administration Of Code 'Discredit' To Lawyers, Nation

CHICAGO (AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson of the United States Supreme Court said Monday the administration of criminal law is "a humiliation and discredit" to lawyers and the nation.

This country, he declared, is plagued by unprecedented delinquency among young people and "shocking crimes."

On the international scene, he added, there is a great struggle for military supremacy—in which "no nation is more forceminded than our own."

The associate justice of the highest court declared such conditions hurl a challenge to the leadership of the legal profession.

He was the No. 1 speaker at ceremonies held in connection with the laying of the cornerstone of the new American Bar Center on Chicago's South Side.

Jackson stated: "Our nation is plagued with unprecedented juvenile delinquency, gangsterism and shocking crimes followed only by long-delayed punishment or by none.

"The administration of our criminal law, from one cause or another, is a humiliation and a discredit to our profession and our country.

"And even civil justice is still delayed or denied, and often beyond the reach of deserving men and women."

"The titanic struggle for military superiority now being waged between nations is on the assumption that material, not moral, force will determine the destines of people.

"No nation is more force-minded today than our own. The people are burdened and unhappy under it, but they do not know how to withdraw because the stakes seem to be so high that the dreadful game must be played on to fortune or ruin.

"And within each nation the internal struggle for power between classes, creeds, races and ideologies tends to take on the same uncompromising character."

Jackson said the legal profession in this country has proclaimed its belief in law and in the rule of law as the best hope to bring order and peace to the nation and world.

"And if a peaceful and stable international order ever is reached,' he said, "it is not rash to predict that it will result from the acceptance by the professions of all nations of an international rule of law as a curb on lawless power in control of great states. I do not expect that in my time."

Vitrified Firm Hits Tile Rule

Health Group Denies Discrimination Cry

A Columbiana County clay pipe manufacturer has lashed out at the county Health Department, declaring the department limits the use of the company's products by home builders.

The attack by the American Vitrified Products Co. of Lisbon and East Liverpool was countered by the county Rural Health and Safety Council, chief sponsors of the half-mill health levy on today's ballot.

The rural health group denied the health department discriminates against the company.

"Eighty-five to 89 per cent of the sewerage lines in the county's general health district are vitrified and clay products sewers," according to Mrs. Curney Converse, president.

The company declared in newspaper advertisements "The specifications and regulations of the county health code—not state laws —limit the use of our products in the county by the home builder."

Spokesmen for the company said, "Results of a survey of American cities revealed that 89 per cent of the sewerage lines are constructed of vitrified clay pipe."

The company claims, "Leading sanitary engineers recognize clay pipe as the best available material for sanitary and storm sewers, due to its permanence on installation."

The company claims it employes about 280 people, and pays about $14,200 per year in real estate and personal property taxes.

Case Of Pietranton And Widow Continued

Brooke County Circuit Court at Wellsburg has continued until its March term the long-standing case against former Hancock County Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton and Mrs. Margie Spies.

The charge against Pietranton and Mrs. Spies, a former Weirton resident, involves alleged irregularities in the preparation and filing of a will of the woman's deceased husband.

Pietranton now is under 1-10-year sentence for embezzlement, but an appeal from his conviction is pending before the Supreme Court.

Brooke County court attaches said the will case was delayed until after the Supreme Court acts on the other proceeding.

Tough Korean POWs Reject Wooing Again

95% Turn Down Red Efforts In Cursing Blast On Communism

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Tough, jaunty Korean prisoners of war rejected Communism today by more than 96 per cent, turning Red efforts to win them home into a taunting, cursing attack on Communist interviewers.

The prisoners easily dominated the interview sessions.

The explanations ended in less than six hours with only 19 of 483 interviewed choosing to return to North Korea.

A North Korean general observing the operation sank down on a sunny bench, his grey, gold and scarlet uniform glittering in the sun, and glumly held his head.

The interviews began after the Reds had made loudspeaker broadcasts to the North Koreans, only to have them drowned out in a roar of yells and singing from the POWs.

Meanwhile, the Allies moved to break a deadlock in the preliminary Korean peace talks. U. S. envoy Arthur Dean suggested a discussion of U. N. and Communist agendas with "the understanding that no agreement will be final until we have a meeting of minds on all."

The Reds, after telling Dean he had proposed nothing new, said they would think it over and reply Wednesday.

Dean told newsmen he still believes an agreement will be worked out on arrangements for a Korean political conference.

More prisoner interviews were scheduled Wednesday—these with Chinese.

The Korean prisoners in Tuesday's interviews followed the pattern already set by more than 900 Chinese and almost 500 Koreans interviewed earlier. The Red batting average has been only about 3 per cent for the total.

Many of the prisoners in the latest group were from the compound G48, which threw the explanations into a two-week deadlock Oct. 16, when the POWs threatened a mass breakout if the Indians tried to use force to take them to the interviews.

Warning On Delinquent Taxes Brings Response

Deputy Auditor Jack Johnston said at Lisbon there has been a heavy response to the warning that the county intends to publish a list of delinquents for personal and classified taxes.

The office has been rushed with a flood of calls, letters and persons desiring to pay their taxes and avoid listing.

A summary of personal and classified tax delinquents will be published in the Review and the Leetonia Reporter Nov. 20 and 27.

Letters were mailed to about 755 persons owing taxes last Thursday, informing them of the auditing departments plan, which conforms to Ohio law.

"The response to these letters has been very favorable," Johnston said, "and most people are eager to have their accounts cleared up."

West Studies Metal Mining

Governors Declare Congress Holds Key

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Life or death of the nation's metal mining industry rests in the legislative lap of Congress, Western governors contend.

They are concerned over ability of the mines to produce in the event of a war emergency.

"This is an issue which must be faced squarely by Congress and the sooner the better," asserts Colorado's Gov. Dan Thornton.

"It is inevitable that Congress must solve this critical problem and I believe Congress is willing," said Arizona's Gov. Howard Pyle.

Metal mining — its increasing shutdowns, labor relations, unemployment problem and foreign imports—occupy the attention of governors of 11 Western states and Hawaii during the final day of the Western governors conference today.

Thousands of men have been thrown out of work in Western states in recent shutdowns of mines, principally those producing lead and zinc. The chief executives are concerned over the effect on national security.

Thornton said "thousands" are out of work in his state because of the "impossibility of our mines to compete" with a market "where in some cases we pay foreign nations more than domestic producers."

There is "quite a hardship in zinc and lead producing areas" in Nevada, said Gov. Charles H. Russell.

Governors of other mining states previously have expressed concern over the crisis, but noted with some satisfaction prices are firming up and imports are dropping.

Park Pool Completed; Bathhouse Work Next

The new swimming pool at Tomlinson Run State Park has been completed, according to Leonard Dean, assistant park superintendent. The approximate cost was $78,000.

Work of the bath-houses is expected to be finished by spring. The contractor is the Consolidated Engineers of Wheeling.

Napoleon T. Hollbrook, park superintendant, is attending a meeting of park officials at Watoga State Park near Marlinton, W. Va., through Friday.

Ministers Will Counsel City Students On Marriage

The Ministerial Association, Monday, approved plans for a conference, "Choosing a Life Partner," to be conducted for students in the Junior and Senior Classes of East Liverpool High School.

The conference sessions will be held from 4 to 4:45 p. m. each Tuesday, Nov. 17 through Dec. 15. It will be open to both boys and girls who have the written consent of parent or guardian.

Leaders will be the Rev. William C. Newman, pastor of the First Church of the First Church of Christ, the Rev. Herbert E. Massey, pastor of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church, and the Rev. Frederick T. Gillette, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Rev. Newman will be in charge of the first conference Nov. 17. The subject will be "Is It Infatuation or Really Love?" The speaker Nov. 24 will be the Rev. Massey, whose subject will be "Is a Diamond Enough?"

"What Do You Mean 'I Will'?" will be the subject for the third session Dec. 1, in charge of Rev. Gillette. There will be a panel discussion on "Is Wedding Etiquette Important?" at the Dec. 8 session in which all three pastors will take part. The last conference on Dec. 15 will be given over to a "Question Box" in which questions received at the first four meetings will be taken up. The three members of the ministerial committee will also take part in this.

"Many parents and young people have requested help from ministers from time to time on "choosing a Life partner." the association says in a letter to be sent to parents.

"This conference is offered with the hope what some sound guidance can be given to youth facing these questions, now or in the future.

"It is the sincere intention of the Ministerial Association to keep this conference on a high spiritual level and to deal in the best possible way with problems our young people are thinking about today, the answers to which may determine their happiness now and throughout all our life."

The proposed conference has the approval of school authorities and the Board of Education. Forms, which parents will be asked to sign, granting permission to their sons and daughters to attend, will be distributed to 600 members of the two upper classes late this week. The conferences will be held in quarters to be assigned by Supt. R. W. Betts.

See Assault On Human Rights

Presbyterian Leaders Charge Attack On Truth

NEW YORK (AP)—The governing body of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. charges that "a subtle but potent assault upon basic human rights is now in progress" in America.

Moreover, the church charges, "loyalty to truth" is being sacrificed for propaganda purposes.

In what was described as an extraordinary action, the denomination's general council sent to its 8,000 pastors and 2½ million members a soberly worded letter on contemporary affairs, asserting:

"Dangerous developments are taking place in our national life. . . The shrine of conscience and private judgment, which God alone has a right to enter, is being invaded."

The letter charged that a "cynical attitude" in official circles was discouraging attempts to settle world tensions by negotiation, and that congressional inquiries have tended to "become inquisitions."

"These inquisitions, which find their historic pattern in medieval Spain and in the tribunals of modern totalitarian states, begin to constitute a threat to freedom of thought in this country," the letter said.

It was released Monday at a news conference by Dr. John A. Mackay, church moderator and president of Princeton Theological Seminary, and Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, stated clerk of the church.

Dr. Mackay said that not in "many, many years" had the general council issued a pronouncement of such broad scope, but that it had been done in this case because of the present "exceedingly grave" situation.

While describing the "menace of Communism" as a serious one, the letter said the threat was being used to incite unhealthy fears and suspicions, to suppress dissent, and to smear good citizens.

"This fanatical negativism is in danger of leading the American mind into a spiritual vacuum," the letter said. "In the case of a national crisis this emptiness could, in the high-sounding name of security, be occupied with ease by a Fascist tyranny."

"Despite the lofty idealism of many of our national leaders, truth is being subtly and silently dethroned by prominent public figures," the letter said. It added:

"The demagogue who lives by propaganda is coming into his own on a national scale. According to the new philosophy, if what is true gives 'aid and comfort' to our enemy, it must be suppressed. Truth is thus a captive in the land of the free."

The "terrifying moral consequences" of this, the letter said, are illustrated in methods which permit citizens to be "publicly condemned upon the incorroborated word of former Communists."

Many of these witnesses, the letter continued, have only shifted to new authoritarian views, but congressional committees "give unqualified credence" to such people who hold that "a lie in a good cause is thoroughly justified."

Concerning Russian-American relations, the letter referred to the biblical injunction to "reason together" to solve disputes, and said:

"Let us beware of the cynical attitude which prevails in certain official circles to regard as forlong hope any negotiated solution of the major issues which divide mankind. . . . We should take the risk, and even the initiative, of seeking face-to-face encounter with our enemies."

Under an adjourned meeting, Council will be able to consider on third reading an ordinance creating the post of chemist-assistant superintendent in the water department on which it was scheduled to act last night, the Council president explained.

The meeting opened with prayer by Rabbi Z. Harry Gutstein of B'Nai Israel Temple.

Admiral Admits He's Tall-Tale Teller

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Adm. Apollo Soucek, here for a speaking engagement, says he has the reputation of being one of the biggest tall-tale tellers in the armed forces.

It all dates back to a 1948 lawn party at McAlester.

"I was standing there talking, my hands folded behind me, when I felt something warm and moist nuzzling me," the admiral said.

"I yanked my hand away and ripped the little finger open. It bled profusely. A baby deer had wandered up and apparently had mistaken my finger for one of its mother's meal tickets."

He said the story is true. The deer came from the U. S. naval ammunition depot reservation here.

Sen. Anderson Blasts Benson's Latest Plan

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Sen. Anderson (D-NM) says he believes Secretary of Agriculture Benson "will be sorry" he has decided to close regional soil conservation offices.

An outspoken critic of the plan, Anderson—who is also a former secretary of agriculture—said he feels time will show the regional offices "were the spark plugs of the whole soil conservation program."

"I believe the soil conservation program will diminish with the closing of the regional offices," he said.

Atomic Reactor Urged For Pike

Polk Asks U.S. To Build First In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Polk (D—Ohio) today urged the government to build its first atomic reactor near the atomic plant under construction in Pike County, Ohio.

In a letter to Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, Polk said labor had a better record at the Ohio project than at the atomic plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky.

The AEC last month announced plans to build its first full-scale atomic reactor, which would produce electric energy. AEC Commissioner Thomas Murray indicated it probably would be built near either Pike County, Oak Ridge or Paducah. The project would cost "tens of millions of dollars," he said.

Polk discussed the subject with Strauss before going on tour with the House Agriculture Committee and said he thought Strauss was favorably impressed with his arguments.

Other advantages Polk listed for southern Ohio were two high voltage lines leading from the Ohio Valley Electric Corp. power plant at Madison, Ind., to the Pike County atomic plant. These lines will cross Adams, Brown, Clermont and Pike counties, Polk said, adding that there were good possible locations for the reactor in all four of those counties.

Polk also said the southern part of his Sixth Ohio District has long been "distressed" economically. For many years young people there have had to look elsewhere for jobs, he added.

He also said Portsmouth is "deeply interested" in having the reactor in Scioto County. Polk said the people of Portsmouth are making an "exceptionally fine" record in finding homes for workers on the Pike County atomic project.

Newell, Chester, Midland, New Cumberland To End Season

East Liverpool Meets Salem At Patterson Field

The 1953 football season is slowly drawing to a close in the district, with four teams playing their final games this weekend in an eight-game schedule.

One contest is on tap Friday afternoon, four that night and three on Saturday. The East Liverpool Reserves will play Saturday morning.

District Football

Wednesday
Wellsville Freshmen at East Liverpool Freshmen, afternoon
Friday
Salem at East Liverpool
New Cumberland at Wellsville
Irondale at Newell, afternoon
Louisville at East Palestine
Leetonia at Sebring
Saturday
West Allegheny at Chester, afternoon
Lisbon at Boardman, afternoon
Midland at Freedom
East Liverpool Reserves at Steubenville Reserves

Chester, Newell, Midland and New Cumberland will play their last contest.

One of the outstanding battles of the year is expected to take place Friday night at Patterson Field when East Liverpool and Salem renew their longtime rivalry.

The Potters and Quakers have met 37 times since 1911. East Liverpool has won 21, lost 13 and three ended in ties. Salem has not won since 1947 when they edged the Potters, 14-13. The Potters have taken three straight, with the 1950 contest canceled.

Coach Ben Barrett's team has won five and dropped two this year, while the Potters have won only two in seven outings.

Wellsville will go after its fifth victory against New Cumberland's Blue Raiders Friday night at Nicholson Stadium.

Coach Al Checkler's eleven has dropped three, while New Cumberland has won four, lost two and tied one.

Other games Friday night will find Louisville invading East Palestine and Leetonia traveling to Sebring in Tri - County League action.

The Bulldogs have won four and lost three. Last year East Palestine beat Louisville, 46-25.

Leetonia will be seeking its third victory against a team it downed last year, 45-6. The Bears have been beaten four times and tied one game.

Newell's Big Green will end its campaign Friday afternoon by playing host to Irondale.

Coach John Robison's crew has won only one game this season, while dropping four. Irondale has won one in five starts.

On Saturday Chester will conclude its season by entertaining West Allegheny, Midland will travel to Freedom for its final game and Lisbon will be at Boardman.

Coach Andy Zubel's Chester eleven will be seeking its fourth straight victory after losing the first four.

The Midland Leopards will strive for victory No. 3. They have lost five.

The Lisbon Blue Devils will attempt to keep their record clean by taking their eighth in a row in facing the Boardman Spartans.

Columbiana, the only other undefeated team in the district with seven straight, will have an open date before meeting East Palestine Nov. 13 at East Palestine.

Saturday morning the East Liverpool Reserves will play the Steubenville Reserves at Steubenville.

Jerry Rose Increases Lead In Scoring Race

Jerry Rose, Lisbon's speedy junior halfback, zoomed away out in front in the district grid scoring as he chalked up two touchdowns in the Blue Devils victory over Leetonia last week to run his total to 85.

In the seven contests the Blue Devils have won, Rose has scored 14 TDs and one extra point. He failed to score in only one game—the Minerva tilt. He tallied four touchdowns in both the East Palestine and Cleveland Brooklyn games.

As a result of a three-touchdown splurge against Poland, Spike Henry of East Palestine moved into second place with 59 points. He also scored two extra points o line plunges.

Fullback Don Greiner of Columbiana dropped from second to third. He kicked three extra points to increase his points for the year to 50.

Ray Burkhart of Columbiana came up with four TDs against Lowellville to jump into fourth place with 48. John Flara of Midland and Dan Carney of Wellsville are tied for fifth with 42 each. Carney got one touchdown last week, while Flara broke loose for two.

Dean Nicholson, Lisbon's quarterback, got one marker and booted four extra points to run his total to 40. Nicholson has kicked 22 extra points and scored three touchdowns. Randy Bailey of Columbiana has 37 points.

The 6-foot-8 Nicholson also fired two touchdown passes to increase his scoring tosses to nine in seven games. He blocked a punt and raced 36 yards for his touchdown.

Long runs featured last weekend's play, but Carney had the longest, an 85-yard dash on a kickoff return against Uhrichsville. Chester Thornton of Wellsville went 53 yards for one of two TDs he scored.

Burkhart had a run of 70 yards, but failed to score.

An oddity of last week's action was the Lisbon victory over Leetonia, 34-0.

The only yards gained by the Blue Devils by rushing was a two-yard plunge by Rose for a TD. Lisbon ran the ball 17 times and lost a total of 26 yards.

They picked up 190 yards via passes as Nicholson connected on 10 of 16. Two Tds came on passes, one on a blocked punt and another on an intercepted pass.

Troy Bruins Have Narrow Lead In Hockey Loop

CINCINNATI (AP)—Outscored by its opponents, the Troy Bruins lead the International Hockey League by a narrow margin.

The squad defeated runnerup Toledo 2-1 and 3-2 in home-and-home games over the weekend, the first reversals dealt the Mercurys in the young season.

The Bruins are making it a habit to win by close margins and lose by heavy scores. For instance, Ken McAtee's boys lost 9-1 at the hands of Cincinnati, the worst drubbing in the league.

Its goals in 10 games add to 43. Its foes have plunked the puck 44 times through Troy nets. In contrast, Toledo has scored 28 times in eight games. But only 12 goals have been scored against the Mercs.

Johnstown and Fort Wayne place their three game winning skeins on the block during the week's 11 league games. Both teams won three out of four last week, Johnstown climbing to a second-place tie and Fort Wayne tying with Cincinnati for fourth. The Mohawks won both their contests.

In the bottom half, Marion and Grand Rapids dropped three out of four tilts. Milwaukee split its quartet and Louisville lost two of three.

Fighting Irish Still Lead As No. 1 Team

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame drew 90 of 134 first place votes today and continued to solidify its position as the No. 1 college football team in The Associated Press poll.

The Irish, who crushed Navy 38-7 for their fifth straight victory, amassed the season's high total of 1,243 points and moved 156 points ahead of second place Maryland, also unbeaten and untied.

Completing the Top Ten are Baylor, Illinois, Michigan State, Georgia Tech, West Virginia, Oklahoma, UCLA and Duke.

Ten points are given for a first place vote, nine for a second, eight for a third, etc., in the poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

The most drastic change in this week's standings saw Southern California, upset 13-7 by Oregon, fall from seventh place to 17th. Duke, loser only to Army in seven games, climbed into the select bracket, from 13th to tenth.

Unbeaten Baylor, 25-7 victor over Texas Christian, and Illinois, conqueror of Purdue 21-0, held their respective places at third and fourth to keep the upper part of the list intact.

But down below Michigan State jumped from sixth to fifth and Georgia Tech from eighth to sixth, shoving West Virginia down two notches although the Mountaineers won their tough test with Penn State 20-19 to remain one of the four major unbeaten and untied elevens.

Oklahoma and UCLA each moved up one rung. The Sooners trounced Kansas State 34-0 and UCLA won over California 20-7. Duke gained its tenth place spot by smashing Virginia 48-6.

Two of the biggest strides were made by Stanford and Mississippi. Stanford jumped from 17th to 11th on its 48-19 victory over Washington State. Mississippi leaped from 18th to 12th on a 27-16 triumph over Louisiana State.

Notre Dame, which has led the poll from the start of the season, moves into Philadelphia Saturday for a game with Pennsylvania, which has beaten Navy and played two Big Ten teams, Ohio State and Michigan, to close terms.

Maryland plays at George Washington, Baylor at Texas and Illinois at home with Michigan. Maryland figures to win fairly easily but Texas and Michigan are capable of jumbling the standings.

Of the other Top Ten teams, Michigan State is at Ohio State, Georgia Tech is host to Clemson, West Virginia is at VPI, Oklahoma at Missouri and Duke at Navy. UCLA is idle.

Here are the standings (with first place votes and team records in parentheses):

	Points
1. Notre Dame (90) (5-0)	1,243
2. Maryland (21) (7-0)	1,087
3. Baylor (7) (6-0)	906
4. Illinois (5-0-1)	782
5. Michigan State (5-1)	553
6. Georgia Tech (5-1-1)	545
7. West Virginia (10) (6-0)	504
8. Oklahoma (1) (4-1-1)	499
9. UCLA (1) (6-1)	363
10. Duke (6-1)	217

Who's Best Hitter In Baseball? Musial, Williams

NEW YORK (AP)—The arguments over whether Ted Williams or Stan Musial is major league baseball's best hitter apparently are ready to break out again.

Before the Boston outfielder reentered the Marines in 1952, base ball observers spent much of their time comparing the two. Ted's followers claimed he was more of a long ball threat. Those who favored Musial, said he was the more scientific batter—he hit to all fields.

Including their 1953 performances Williams shows a mark of .348 and the Cardinal slugger is close behind with .345. They far outdistance the active big league field in lifetime averages, figures compiled The Associated Press revealed today.

Overall, Williams has pounded out 1,804 safeties in 5,187 times at bat. Stan shows 2,223 hits in 6,437 trips. Ted is ahead in home runs, 337 to 257, and runs batted in, 1,298 to 1,127. Musial leads Williams in doubles, 467 to 367 and triples 142 to 62.

Jackie Robinson, a .329 batter in 1953, brought his lifetime mark up to .319 to rank second to Musial in the National League.

Cleveland's Dale Mitchell is runner-up to Williams in the American League with .315.

Rocky Casillo Stops Giovanelli In 10th

BROOKLYN (AP)—Rocky Casillo of Chicago can look forward to another fight in the near future at Eastern Parkway Arena as the result of stopping Danny Giovanelli of Brooklyn last night.

Casillo, 147, had Giovanelli, 147½ on the mat three times in the 10th round before Referee Barney Felix stopped the fight at 2:37. Later it was announced Giovanelli suffered a sprained back in the 10th.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner said he probably would use Casillo later this month against an unnamed opponent and send him back against Joey Klein of Brooklyn in December.

2 Potter Foes Win, 1 Loses

Two of the three remaining foes on the 1953 Potter football schedule registered victories over the weekend.

Salem who will play here Friday night, and Alliance, the final opponent of the season, posted victories, but Toronto, who will provide the oppsition in the final home game, was defeated.

Salem won its fifth game of the year, a 6-0 triumph over Youngstown North. Alliance won its fourth game by edging Canton McKinley, 6-0.

Salem has lost two and Alliance has dropped two and tied one. The Aviators will play Canton Lincoln this week.

Follansbee downed Toronto, 12-0, to hand the Red Knights their third defeat. They have won three and tied one. Toronto will clash with Wintersville this week.

Past Potter foes split even in five games last week.

The top battle was the New Philly-Bellaire contest, which the Quakers won, 34-0. It gave New Philly its seventh straight victory. The Quakers are still unscored on. Bellaire suffered its first defeat after winning six straight.

Steubenville won its fifth game with a 21-18 triumph over Akron Garfield and Youngstown South posted its fifth by taking Youngstown East, 32-12. Steubenville will tangle with Martins Ferry Friday.

Youngstown Rayen lost its second game of the year when Youngstown East squeezed out a 6-0 victory. Sandusky was beaten by Mansfield, 28-0.

Bucks Tangle With Spartans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University's football team may be weaker on paper than the Michigan State squad it meets Saturday, but the Bucks don't consider themselves underdogs.

They began preparations yesterday for this all-important conference game with a confident, "show me" attitude.

The Spartans from East Lansing, Mich., have won 29 of their last 30 games. They lead the Big Ten in defense. They are third in offense.

The Bucks have a 5-1 record this season, are down near the bottom of the league standings in defense and have played erratic ball all fall.

But Asst. Buck Coach Gene Fekete, who has been scouting the Spartans this year, says it looks to him as though the two teams are evenly matched.

And Head Coach Woody Hayes, enthusiastic over the showing his boys made in beating Northwestern 27-13 last Saturday, said he believes "strongly in our offense and our defense has improved."

He has two lads, especially, whom he rely on offensively. One half back, Bob Watkins, leads the conference in touchdowns with 10. Another, Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, is third in that department.

Of particular pride to the Buck boss is the courage his team has shown.

"We have come from behind to win four of our five victories this year," he said. "It is a great thing to me . . . that the boys stay in there and fight, and when a break comes our way they take advantage of it."

One-Platoon Football Liked By Students

NEW YORK — College students report that they prefer the one-platoon football game over the multi-platoon system.

This was revealed by Lester Rand of the Youth Research Institute here. The poll surveyed 800 college students in 20 different schools throughout the nation.

Of all students polled, 81 per cent were for the one platoon game, 11 per cent were two-platooners and eight per cent were undecided.

"Girls are all for the one platoon, even though it means fewer men," asserted Rand. Nearly all the girls interviewed—98 per cent to be exact—liked the 1953 version of the game because "it's easier to follow and less confusing."

Better Bowling

Champ Santore Teaches A Four-Step Delivery

(This is the second of a series of instructive bowling stories written for the Associated Press by Frank Santore, ABC singles and all-event bowling champion.)

I prefer to teach the four-step delivery because it is the one most commonly used by the majority of people who bowl.

I take four and a half steps because I feel it gives me better balance and timing. I'm only 5 feet, 6 and weigh 165. However, it took me about 10 years before I found that extra half step. It sure has paid dividends in my 10 years of bowling, especially in the last four American Bowling Congress tournamests.

The first thing to do in any delivery, however, is to make sure your knees are slightly bent. The knees should be bent as you take the first step with your right foot.

As the ball starts to go down you take your second step with your left foot.

On the third step—which is the second step with your right foot—the ball has reached the end oft he backswing.

The fourth and last step is taken when the left foot moves out toward the foul line. Just as the left foot ends its slide the ball is released simultaneously.

The four normal-size steps should be as even as possible.

Four Teams Have Inside Track For Bowl Contests

By BOB HOOBING

NEW YORK (AP) — Maryland, Oklahoma, Georgia Tech and Illinois are the leading candidates for major bowl appearances as college football heads down the November stretch.

Maryland's unbeaten, untied Terrapins and Oklahoma's once-beaten Sooners have the inside track for a Jan. 1 meeting in the Orange Bowl now that an agreement has been reached for the winners of the Atlantic Coast and Big Seven Confersnces to square off in Miami.

Illinois is a strong bet to play either Stanford or UCLA in the Rose Bowl, where the Big Ten and Pacific Coast champions have been matched every year since New Year's Day, 1947.

Georgia Tech, which like Oklahoma has lost only to national pace-setting Notre Dame, appears a cinch for a post-season bid unless disaster strikes the squad. A top representative of the Southeast Conference has been invited to the Sugar Bowl in 15 of the 19 games to date and the Engineers are just that as of the moment. If the Techmen want it they more than likely could have a Cotton Bowl bid, too.

Ray Eliot's Illini are in the center of the Pasadena picture not only because they are the sole unbeaten entry left in the Big Ten (3-0), but also because they are not at a disadvantage schedulewise. If Illinois lives up to its favorite role against Michigan this Saturday the winner of the Michigan State-Ohio State match will have little chance to catch the current leader. The Wolverines and Wisconsin are slim outsiders at this point.

Southern California, ineligible for the Rose Bowl because it played there last year, nevertheless holds the trump cards on the coast. The Trojans face both Stanford and UCLA, the PCC contenders. The Indians from Palo Alto are leading with a 5-0 record and the Bruins have a 4-1 PCC mark. There is a strong possibility the two might wind up in a tie which would necessitate a vote by the conference.

By prearrangement, a ballot will be required to determine the Atlantic Coast's Orange Bowl representative, with both Maryland and Duke virtually assured of unbeaten records within the league. Jim Tatum's Terps have the added prestige of an unbeaten, untied mark behind them and a schedule of George Washington, Mississippi and Alabama ahead of them. Duke must meet Navy, Georgia Tech and North Carolina in order.

Oklahoma's Sooners remain the class of the Big Seven, where they haven't lost a conference game since midseason of 1946.

Though Baylor, still unbeaten, leads the southwest candidates for the title and the automatic Cotton Bowl invitation that goes with it, its too early to concede anything to the Bears. Baylor can take a giant step forward with a victory over second place Texas Saturday. SMU and Rice are also in the running and Baylor, after its first championship since 1924, must still face the Mustangs and the Owls.

Mississippi, Auburn, Alabama and Kentucky remain prospective bowl material in the Southeast but the conference games ahead will work hardships on all but Ole' Miss.

At the moment, Mississippi, unbeaten West Virginia and Duke, as well as Georgia Tech, appear to be strong contenders for available Sugar and Cotton Bowl assignments.

Undefeated Frosh Play Wellsville Plebes In Final

The undefeated East Liverpool freshmen gridders will ring down the curtain on their season Wednesday afternon at 4 at Patterson Field when they go after their sixth straight victory.

The Wellsville frosh will provide the opposition as they attempt to knock the local yearlings from the unbeaten ranks.

Coach Lou Venditti's plebes have defeated Steubenville Central, 27-0, Beaver Falls, 24-0, Toronto, 61-0, Steubenville Big Red, 24-7, and Lisbon, 32-0.

If they can get past the Bengals, it will be the first undefeated season for the frosh in the five years Venditti has been coach.

65th National Horse Show Opens In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Horses, almost forgotten in this metropolitan city except at the race tracks, take over Madison Square Garden today for the opening of the 65th edition of the National Horse Show.

Before the eight-day stand has been completed, 22 championships will be decided.

The official opening is listed for 11 a.m., EST but the formal ceremonies take place tonight when Gen. Charles L. Bolte, vice chief of staff, United States Army, takes the salute of the international jumping teams from England, Ireland, Canada and the United States.

On the basis of last week's Harrisburg, Pa., show, England is favored to carry off the majority of the international trophies. Of the 11 events at Harrisburg, the English riders captured seven and 24-year old Pat Smythe accounted for five personal victories. Miss Smythe is the first woman ever to jump in competition for England.

The U. S. team of Arthur McCashin, Mrs. Carol Durand and 18-year old Ronnie Mutch won two coveted trophies at the Pennsylvania show.

The Syracuse-Colgate football battle on Nov. 14 will be the 54th game between these two old New York rivals.

Mountaineers Not Offside On Punt Play

MORGANTOWN (AP)—The Mountaineers went back to the practice field today to prepare for their final Southern Conference clash, but the center of interest on West Virginia's campus was expected to be the football movie projection room.

The Nittany Lions of Penn State, licking their wounds after WVU's 20-19 victory, sent word that their game movies showed two significant scenes from the Saturday fracas.

First, it was Bruce Bosley and not Tommy Allman that blocked the crucial Penn State punt in the third period that provided the Mountaineer margain of victory secondly, WVU was not offside on the crucial play, as State's Coach Rip Engle intimated.

Bosley actually blocked Don Eyer's boot from the State 10, then chased it into the end zone for the score. Tommy Allman, who was thought to have stopped the kick, rushed fast and was with Bosley, but it was the big tackle's chest that became the bounding board.

The coach's allegation that WVU had jumped the gun also was nullified, according to reports from State College.

After the game Engle was quoted as saying; Someone was across that line awful fast," referring to the blocked punt, "and I will be plenty surprised if the movies don't show a West Virginia lineman offside."

But the movies at Penn State didn't.

Coach Art Lewis had his charges just run around Mountaineer field yesterday, complying with a belief that rest is the best reward after a big game. But the togs were out of their lockers again today in preparation for the Virginia Tech game at Bluefield Saturday.

Tom Ferrick Signed By Redlegs As Coach

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs today signed Tom Ferrick, 38 - year-old former American League pitcher, as a coach.

Ferrick thus rejoins Manager George (Birdie) Tebbets, with whom he worked last season as player-coach at Indianapolis of the American Association. Tebbetts was manager there until he was hired to replace Rogers Hornsby.

Defensive Unit Cited By Brown

By DICK SMITH

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown put his finger on speed and spirit as the reasons this year's Cleveland Browns defensive team may become the most effective pro football has seen since the 1927 New York Giants rationed 20 points to opponents in 13 games.

"They're a little faster than our previous personnel," Brown analyzed. "And the defense is proud of their work. Not cocky or overconfident, because they know that bad day can come. But very proudfull of spirit."

In six games the unbeaten Browns' defense has allowed only 37 points—an average of 6.1 a game. The Giants have yielded 92, and opponents are puncturing defenses of the other 10 National Football League clubs for an average of 20 points or more a game.

Last Sunday the Browns' defense paved the way for a field goal and all three touchdowns by capitalizing on Washington Redskin "mistakes"—to borrow the word from Washington's coach, Earl (Curly) Lambeau. After seeing his team lose the ball on a blocked field goal try, a blocked punt, four intercepted passes, and two fumbles induced by hard tackling, Lambeau said:

"This is the greatest Browns' team I've ever seen. You just can't make a single mistake, or they'll jump on you right away."

At the league schedule halfway point, there have been only two shutouts in 36 games, and the Browns have scored both, with New York and Green Bay the victims. The last comparable performance by a pro grid team defense was by the 1944 Giants who gave up 75 points in 10 games.

"Ken Konz and Ken Gorgal's extreme speed has helped the secondary a lot," Brown explained. "And Catlin, as lineback, has been of immense value. And there's Don Colo doing a bang-up job at tackle."

Complete Recovery Expected For Mantle

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — The surgeon who operated on Mickey Mantle yesterday said the New York Yankee centerfielder came through in good shape and "we expect complete recovery."

Dr. Dan Yancey removed the semilunar cartilege from Mantle's right knee, which was injured in the 1951 World Series and again last July. He said the operation revealed more damage to the cartilege than was expected.

The speedy outfielder's knee "will be as strong as it was before the operation and there will be no loss of action," Dr. Yancey said.

Tigers On Way To 6th Straight Title; Lisbon Jumps A Notch To 12th Place

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Massillon's mighty Tigers, five-times state champs and hot on the trail of the sixth, remained today atop The Associated Press poll of Ohio's No. 1 high school football team.

But Portsmouth's Trojans, also boasting seven straight wins, crept up a bit on the champs as 34 sports writers voted on the weekly ratings.

Massillon swept over Warren, last week's second placer, 27-6 Friday night before some 22,000 fans, but the scribes liked the Panther performance so much they dropped Coach Chuck Riffle's one-time losers only to fourth place.

Portsmouth, an impressive 39-7 victor over Hamilton's Big Blue, jumped back into second place with a bang, only 48 poll points back of Chuck Mather's Massillons—which is about as close as anyone has come this season. Last week Massillon had 279 poll points to Portsmouth's 200, but the Trojans garnered 230 this week to Massillon's 278.

Incidentally, the 230 poll points exactly matches Portsmouth's game total for seven conquests.

Dayton Chaminade, 40-0 winner over Dayton Roosevelt, took over third place. Cincinnati Purcell (53-0 over Roger Bacon), New Philadelphia (34-0 over Bellaire), Middletown (13-6 over Lima South), Fremont Ross (44-7 over Bowling Green), and Youngstown Ursuline (19-0 over Steubenville Central Catholic), clung to the fifth through ninth places they held a week ago.

Only change in the top 10 came in 10th place where Memorial St. Marys, despite a 60-27 win over Bellefontaine to boost its scoring record for seven wins to 342-60, skidded a notch and surrendered the berth to Toledo DeVilbiss' unbeaten squad.

Warren, Middletown and Youngstown Ursuline of the big 10 have lost 1 of 7, but the others have 7 straight. Their scoring records:

Massillon 270-30, Portsmouth 230-42, Dayton Chaminade 304-39, Warren 193-85, Cincinnati Purcell 221-38, New Philadelphia 200-0, Middletown 147-46, Fremont Ross 283-33, Youngstown Ursuline 112-44, and Toledo DeVilbiss 163-43.

Toledo Waite, beaten by a single point by DeVilbiss in seven games, and boasting a 219-60 scoring record, faces Massillon this week, and the Tigers meet unbeaten Fremont Ross the following Friday. Waite tuned up for its giant-killer role Friday by smacking down Toledo Central 61-13. The Massillon-Waite game is in Toledo.

From here and there: Dave Kuenzli of Upper Sandusky clung to the state scoring lead this week with 184 points for seven games. He got 40 points in the 59-0 win over Norwalk, scoring 6 touchdowns, passing for 2 others and booting 4 extra points. He's rushed for 1,259 yards in 134 tries, received passes for 208 yards, completed 21 of 35 tosses for 384. He's only 16 but weighs 182, runs the 100 in 10.5, is a "high B" student, a senior, has won three football and basketball and two track letters, and wants to be a coach. Upper Sandusky also sings the praises of Keith Quail, a guard.

Toledo Clay won its 28th straight, 53-0 over Perrysburg . . . And Holland wrecked Ottawa Hills 81-0 to boost its scoring total to 359 points, probably the state's best. Chauncey—Dover also made it 28 in a row, 40-0 over Jackson-Trimble.

They're looking today at pictures of Youngstown East's 7-0 victory over Rayen to determine if an illegal "hideout" play was used to score the touchdown. Rayen Coach Ralph Robinette said the play was illegal, but Referee Fred Rollason said he "noticed no violation." It was Rayen's first loss in the city series, and Robinette said he'd protest to the atletic committee if the movies bear out his claim.

Oddity: Lisbon, in clipping Leetonia 34-0 for its seventh straight, failed to make a first down rushing—but quarterback Dean Nicholson, the tall fellow, clicked for 190 areial yards.

Cincinnati Central, loser of its first 6 games, defeated Cincinnati Hughes 15-6, although Hughes had won its first 6 . . . Jack Nichols of Jimmy Robinson's fine Canton Lehman team scored 24 points in the 54-6 romp over Akron Kenmore, boosting his total to 127. Incidentally, genial Jim is being touted for coach of the year and boss of the Northern All—Stars in recognition of his season's efforts.

Hamilton Coach Chuck Thackara said Portsmouth was the best-coached team he'd seen in five-years—a fine pat on the back for Bob Brownson who also is picking up support for the coach of the year and the Southern All-Star job.

Cambridge, Central Ohio League champ last year, hasn't won a loop game this season. And Marietta, which didn't win one in nine starts in 1952, is leading the circuit with five straight—with Newark, Dover, Coshocton and Zanesville tied for second with 3-2 marks.

Only one penalty was called in the Warren—Massillon game, the champs getting a five-yarder, and the game was over in an hour and 45 minutes—probably the fastest of the year.

Jim Hayden of Columbus Grove scored five times against Bluffton, and Larry Hileman of Rockford did the same against Elida, as they remained tied for the Lima area scoring lead with 96 points . . . Wayne Ort of Defiance's 7-game winners kicked 8 straight conversions in the 56-7 win over Liberty Center, and now has 33 for the year.

Tom Smolanovich scored 3 touchdowns and booted 3 extra points for Poland against East Palestine, but his team lost 34-21. Youngstown Ursuline's Dave Kimmell scored touchdowns on 52 and 13-yard sprints, and passed 47 yards for the third as Steubenville Central fell 19-0.

Here's how 34 newspaper and radio sports editors rate the teams this week. Shown are the first-place votes received by each, and the poll points on a 10-9-8- etc. basis:

Teams	Firsts	points

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MYERS

Working Mothers Confronted With Problems

In April, 1952, there were 19,000,000 employed women in the United States, 10,400,000 of them wives. Of these 5,300,000 had children under school age.

Though many authorities may contend that the preschool child is hindered more than the school child when his mother works away from home, such often is not the case.

Practically no mother who works fails to provide home care of the preschool child. But many mothers don't provide this care for the school child, who is often left for an hour or so in the morning or as long in the evening to fend for himself.

Children, especially those from 6 to 10 or 12, left alone at home one or more hours on school days, often face grave hazards, physically and orally.

For some mothers, working is a necessity, but not for nearly all of them. These would do well to put first consideration on the welfare of the child, and not on the greater luxuries for him and the family.

—:—

IT'S THE mother whose better judgment tells her she shouldn't work away from home, who may often suffer from a sense of guilt. This suffering may bring her many problems with her child, especially the child from two to six or eight.

To salve her conscience, she may lavish material things on the child and pamper him when she is home.

This child, especially if under five or six, may cry bitterly after her as she leaves home, and demand her constant attention while she is there with him.

Falsely, she interprets this solely as his craving for her affection. And while his excessive demands on her may annoy her at times, she suffers because of what it seems to indicate, and her conscience hurts her more.

She needs to think the problem through. Then if she decides to keep on working she should emphasize the following:

—:—

1. WHILE home, aim to give the child the kind of attention and affection which will help him grow more and more self-reliant physically and emotionally.

2. Caress him often, of course, when he likes it. But try more to show your affection by your smiles and tender tones and voice, by your talking with him companionably. Answer his questions kindly. Enjoy his simplest creation. Spend time in helping him learn skills at making things with simple tools. If he already has demanded excessively that you merely amuse him, be busy enough for short periods when he will see you can't do so then.

3. Also spend considerable time and effort at helping him have fun with other children of his own age, attracting some of them to your home and guiding them just enough but not too much at having good fun there together, restraining your child a bit here, encouraging him there, at being a good playmate. Also set the stage so he will play a good deal outdoors with these other children while you are with him. Aim to prepare him to be happy while you are away. (My recent bulletins "The Working Mother" and "Self-Reliance" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

Orioles To Spend Half Million On New Ball Players

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles say they plan to spend a half million dollars in tax free income plus another "tidy" sum on new players.

President Clarence Miles explained the now defunct St. Louis Browns lost a half million dollars "which we can take as a loss."

And in addition to the $500,000, Miles said the new American League club has a "very tidy and substantial figure to spend this year for new players."

Miles told of the "tax carry back" yesterday at a luncheon of the Baltimore Sports Reporters Association.

Clyde R. Morris, law partner of Miles, explained later that Baltimore won't have to start paying taxes until after it has netted at least $500,000. He said it was the club's intent to spend all that free money—the full $500,000—on new players.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I eliminate squeaks in woman's shoes?

A. Rubbing neats-foot oil or linseed oil into the sole usually helps. Another remedy is to punch two or three small holes into the sole just behind the ball of the foot where the sole begins to curve up into the instep.

Q. How can I clean velour and other soft finishes of upholstery?

A. Apply dry-cleaning fluid with a piece of cheesecloth, and brush up the nap afterward with a soft brush.

Q. What can I do when my rubber plant starts to turn brown and lose its leaves?

A. This may be due to the presence of bugs in the soil, and those bugs are often caused by too much water. To get rid of both, remove half the soil from the pot, replace with fresh soil, and refrain from watering the plant for a week. After that, water it very sparingly.

Hardwood Floor

To wash a hardwood floor, use a tablespoon of vinegar and one of furniture polish to the water used for washing. Soap makes varnished surfaces cloudy.

Wall Paper Paste

A very good paste for wall paper can easily be made by mixing flour and water to a thin paste. When the mixture boils, add a little powdered alum. Boil untio proper thickness for paste.

Perfume Stains

Perfume spots on furniture should be smeared with linseed oil or olive oil or camphorated oil immediately. Mop up and apply more oil on a woolen cloth.

Public Dinner Set

IRONDALE — A public ham and turkey supper will be sponsored by the Irondale IOOF Lodge Wednesday night from 5 to 7 at the high school. Arnold Lutton announced proceeds will be used to help pay for a heating system purchased for the IOOF building.

West Virginia Opens Probe Of Forest Fires

Conservation Group Gets Report Many Started By Hunters

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Conservation Department launched a thorough investigation today into reports that many forest fires had been started by hunters.

But at the same time Conservation Director Carl J. Johnson said his department has no plans to close woodlands to hunters unless the "present trouble" spreads.

Closing the state's woodlands would have the effect of closing the hunting season a second time.

The department reported however, there was "some evidence that half of the fires in District 5 were caused by hunters. The investigation would encompass reports that hunters had been smoking squirrels and other game from trees and then abandoning their fires.

District 5, including most counties in the southwestern part of the state, bore the brunt of the new upsurge in woodland blazes, just as it had in the critical period in October that subsided with rains a week ago.

The department's last radio report showed 83 fires ablaze in the state, 41 out of control. There were 60 new fires reported during a 12-hour period ended late yesterday; 37 in District 5. Thirty-two fires in the fifth district were out of control, the department reported.

District 4, generally including the southeastern section of West Virginia, had 11 new fires, six out of control.

Conservation Department fire-fighters and employes of the United Fuel Gas Co. managed to restrain a fire on Hart's Creek, west of Chapmanville in Logan County, which threatened a $20,000 gas drilling rig.

Another large fire had been reported out of control in Hampshire County, but a fire on the West Virginia-Virginia border in Greenbrier County was reported under control.

West Virginia woodlands were closed, effective Oct. 1 six hours after the hunting season opened, because of the critical forest fire condition at that time.

The hunting ban was lifted Oct. 29 and is shceduled to continue through Nov. 28 on squirrel and turkey. Grouse will be fair game until Dec. 26, barring another suspension.

Homemade Burglar Alarm Catches Three

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A homemade burglar alarm was responsible for the arrest yesterday in a church attic here of three ex-convicts.

Soon after their arrest, the three men—Jesse G. Roper, 20; Aubrey D. Morrison, 23; and Joseph A. Tierron, 24 — admitted four robberies and two attempted robberies.

The homemade alarm was devised and installed by J. M. Thomas, 55, caretaker of the Trinity Baptist Church, where the trio was hiding.

Late Oilman's Estate Placed At $4 Million

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The estate of Ellis A. Hall, Albuquerque oilman who died in an Alaska plane crash has been set at $4,250,022.11. The appraisal was filed in probate court yesterday.

Hall, his wife, two daughters and 17-year-old Patrick Hibben were killed in the plane crash Aug. 17. The plane apparently disintegrated in the air after being buffeted by strong winds.

Police Hunt Thief With Strong Back

COLORADO SPRINGS (AP)—David Brown is sure it isn't worth the effort, and police are looking for a thief with a strong back.

Brown told Sheriff Norman Short yesterday how he removed the engine from his 1942 car, lugged it down to the basement and started making repairs.

An hour later Brown went back out to his engineless car.

It had been stolen.

Indicted For Arson

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lawrence J. Pepper of Columbus, 21-year-old railroad brakeman who police say confessed setting fire to 27 cars, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday on 27 counts of arson.

Bomb Storing In Spain Hit By Sen. Green

Getting Into 'Very Deep Water., He Says Of Air Force Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Theodore F. Green (D—RI) today sharply criticized the announcement that the U. S. Air Force plans to store atomic bombs in Spain.

Green, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, termed that statement by Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott "another example of people on the administration talking too much and prematurely."

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), in a separate interview, said "I fear we may be compromising ourselves" in foreign policy toward Franco Sapin on the one hand, and the Tito government of Communist Yugoslavia on the other.

Talbott told a news conference in Madrid yesterday the U. S. Air Force eventually will store supplies of atomic bombs in Sapin, to have them ready for use against "a common enemy." But it will be done, he aded, only if the Spanish government agrees. He said any use of atomic weapons by Spanish forces "is not in the picture at the present time," but will be the subject of negotiations.

Talbott and Gen. Nathan Twining, Air Force chief of staff, are in Spain to study sites for five proposed airbases for joint use by U. S. and Spanish planes. An agreement for U. S. bases in Sapin was signed recently after prolonged negotiations.

"I think we are getting into very deep water," Sen. Green said. "It seems to me, without regard to other serious questions involved, the secretary has made a great mistake in telling so much at this time unless he is going to tell more. It looks like a case of his talking prematurely, before an agreement is reached."
